1. FOREWORD

I suspect that atheists, in general, do not see the aesthetic beauty and divine ethos behind the Biblical message, simply because they either do not understand or appreciate mathematics, hence mathematician John Lennox's far superior take on Biblical values and dynamics.

Of course professional journalists or historians sporting PhDs in communication and linguistics may (technically speaking) probably have produced a more “error free” Bible; but, instead, from Genesis to Revelation, God apparently has chosen to, against all odds and logic, over the centuries use farmers, shepherds, soldiers, fisherman etc. and all kinds of ordinary folk from all walks of life to produce the most magnificent Book ever written and the greatest story ever told in the annals of history. Why? Because God, being absolutely infinite and infinitely absolute, must have known which kind of product would have sufficed and survived best in the long run.

The only reason that cynics and atheists are at all able to dissect, analyse and badmouth the Bible with so much unfettered impunity today (as if it is a lifeless cadaver), is because it has survived the merciless onslaught of thirty or so centuries of the elements, and, the very so-called “errors” they are inclined to gloat over, only serve to validate, not disqualify, the Bible as the authentic Word of God, i.e., affirming the hard and unromantic fact of human frailty desperately in need of a Saviour.

The inerrancy of the Bible thus is not predicated on the mechanical properties of paragraphs and sentences arranged on the pages of Biblical translations, but on the invisible, divine ‘DNA’ of its universal message of Salvation woven like a golden thread through its pages and powerful enough to, over the millenniums, have saved countless souls from damnation, made harlots holy and prostitutes pure, and also have given meaning to those in anticipation of the real wealth waiting beyond the grave after having shed the tinsel of the fake and temporal wealth of this life (only a preview of things to come) forever.

Atheists, when assessing and judging on Biblical values (or the lack thereof) should stop splitting hairs and majoring in minors. Once, when some famous classical pianist reportedly was asked whether a computerised machine would not produce a purer, technically more perfect piano concerto, the pianist reportedly replied (an urban legend): “What ... and lose the human element, the human touch?!” It is the imperfect human touch of the pianist (which no machine of its very nature could ever replicate) that makes piano concertos beautiful and a sheer joy to listen to; and, it is the same human touch that, over the millennia, has created the most beautiful symphony in literature on earth ... the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Atheists have fallen among thieves, i.e., ideological thieves who play for keeps and have robbed them of the Pearl of Great Price. The last thing they (and that goes for all of us) at the Great White Throne Judgment will ever want to hear from the mouth of that once humble preacher from Nazareth and the dusty streets of Jerusalem, will be, “Mene, mene tekel ufarsin!” That will the mother of all wake-up calls to be avoided at all cost.

2. INTRODUCTION

This document is not a scientific dissertation addressing academics or scientists, but a simple article debunking of some of the common myths one often hears from the quarters of the so-called ‘atheists’ around us; I say ‘so-called atheists’ because I have yet to meet a bona fide, dyed-in-the-wool atheist. Most ‘atheists’ today probably are only ‘armchair-sceptics’ suffering from mental depression and still only ‘evolving’ toward true atheism; the jury may still be out for a very long recess.

The dividing line usually comes on the deathbed (Christianity 101?), and how ironic to see hard-core atheists suddenly recanting at the eleventh-hour when the stygian darkness of death descends on the soul of the desperate, dying unbeliever. Nobody wants to die alone ... not even the most callous of atheists or pagans.

On the lay level, arguments of the atheist-evolutionist often may include such (apparently) scientific-sounding statements as those listed as MYTHS below. The discerning reader will, however, quickly notice the absurdities of the arguments. Bear in mind that the atheist-evolutionists themselves are, in contrast to their virulently anti-religious rhetoric, some of the most religious of people on Earth; for whereas Christians believe in a Creator and God (in the august Person of the ‘YHWH’ or Yahweh of the Bible), atheist-evolutionists believe in the false religion of ‘atheism-evolutionism’, or ‘scientism’ (the blind worship of science); and, whereas Christians confess faith in the Holy Trinity of Father, Son and Holy Spirit, the atheist-evolutionist confesses faith in the triumvirate of Father Time, Mother Nature and their designated ‘messiah’, Charles Darwin, the emissary tasked with preaching this anti-gospel (‘bad news’) of death, destruction and the biological recycling of our bodies back into the compost of Nature allegedly operating through the blind, random and accidental force of ‘Evolution’.

In my book anything or anybody that ‘selects’ suggests intelligent design per se, whether the selection comes because of personal discretion and judgement, or as a result of a pre-programmed bias in a formal system. In the atheist-evolutionists’ ‘church’ (affectionately referred to all over the world as the ‘natural history museum’) they teach that, for all practical purposes, Father Time and Mother Nature somehow created everything over billions of years ‘ex nihilo’ without reason, purpose, or rationale out of nothing, and then sent their designated messiah Charles Darwin to further the anti-gospel of ‘Evolutionary Theory’, nothing more (and less) than fortune-telling in reverse.

Whereas the teachings of ‘Christ’ has developed over time into ‘Christianity’, the teachings of Darwin has developed over time into ‘Darwinism’, so I trust the reader has noticed the parallels here. Both represent belief-systems; it is the clash of two totally different intellectual universes, two opposite worldviews and two ideological mind-sets colliding with force at the philosophical juncture (of the ultimate topic) of the Origins of Life. East is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet.

The million-rouble question is: Whose faith is the authentic, valid, and true one, worthy of the ultimate spiritual, intellectual and socio-cultural pursuit in our quest for everlasting truth, peace, joy, and happiness? Many years ago Thomas Jefferson, one of the presidents of the USA, took the New Testament and reportedly, with a pair of scissors, from his Bible cut and removed all references to miracles, resulting in what today is known as 'The Jefferson Bible'. These 'theological acrobatics' (mutilation of Scripture, really) was repeated recently by a rogue group of 'postmodernists' known as 'The Jesus Seminar', who by the employment of differently coloured beads, reduced about 82% of Jesus words as 'myth and/or legend' from the New Testament to leave only about 18% as 'authentic' and 'valid'.

Now imagine a top chef preparing a tossed salad for a contingent of illustrious guests, but taking into consideration the tastes and dislikes of his patrons, assembled from all walks of life. First he throws out the cucumber, because the president of the society does not like cucumber; secondly, he throws out the pineapple, because the wife of the president does not approve of pineapple; thirdly, he decides against onions (too 'tangy' for the general secretary); fourthly, he removes the tomato, because the general secretary's wife suffers from gout; fifthly, he declines the Greek salad dressing because it will offend the visiting diplomat from Bahrain.

So, in the end, after having removed most of the ingredients, nobody even looked at (never mind touched) the 'tossed salad', for who wants to eat a dry bowl of withered lettuce drenched in mayonnaise and sprinkled with sea-salt? Once so-called 'experts' (e.g., postmodernists and secular humanists etc.) begin mutilating the Scriptures to make it more palatable and politically-correct for sceptics, the death is in the pot, and the result is not a Bible, but a falsified history-book; not a Gospel, but a collection of insignificant first-century allegories.

I therefore must agree with Rick Warren when he said, "I'd rather walk with Jesus with all my questions than walk alone with all the answers!" The Bible says:

[Proverbs 26:12 KJV]

"Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him."

3. DEBUNKING SOME COMMON MYTHS OF ATHEISM-EVOLUTIONISM

MYTH #1. "There is no such thing as Absolute Truth!"

REBUTTAL: False. If this were true, then this atheist-evolutionist would be lying, for in his own admission there can be no such thing as 'absolute truth', including as far as his own statement is concerned. Furthermore, if this atheist-evolutionist were then lying, then the opposite of what he had said would thus actually be true, and there actually would then be such a thing as Absolute Truth after all. The discerning reader will quickly learn that atheists generally often argue themselves into a 'Catch-22' philosophical impasse, and contrary to what this atheist-evolutionist believes, Jesus of Nazareth has said:

[John 14:6 KJV]

"Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the TRUTH, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me."

(Capitals mine for emphasis)

MYTH #2. "There are no 'Moral Absolutes'!"

REBUTTAL: Is he absolutely sure? How can he be absolutely sure of this if there are no absolutes? If there really were no moral absolutes, he could, at best (and in other words), only theorise and hope that what he believes is true.

When the atheist-evolutionists say that there are no 'moral absolutes', they are trying to tell us that there is no righteous God of Absolute Truth espousing (divine) Moral Absolutes as we know it from the Bible. The Bible (and not I) however, teaches us that it is the fool that says that there is no God or denies the moral absolutes of a Holy God:

[Psalms 53:1a KJV]

"To the chief Musician upon Mahalath, Maschil, A Psalm of David.
The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God."

MYTH #3. "No statements are true unless they can be proven scientifically (or logically)!" OR /"No statements are true unless they can be shown empirically to be true!"

REBUTTAL: This is also referred to as 'the scientific method' and has lately given rise to the religious cult of 'Scientism', i.e. the blind worship of 'science'. Science is a good servant, but a bad master, and, if this were really true, then these very statements of the atheist-evolutionist would immediately become suspect and probably invalid and would themselves (in the same vein) now have to be verified empirically, scientifically, or logically for validity ... what is good for the goose is good for the gander. The atheist-evolutionist's dilemma is that, however, there are no known algorithms or protocols in existence for testing these statements themselves empirically, scientifically, or logically for validity (another 'Catch-22' philosophical impasse).

MYTH #4. "We cannot really know anything about God and Creation ... it is all conjecture!"

REBUTTAL: Wow ... how did he 'know' that? And, if we cannot know anything, what is this atheist-evolutionist's opinion then worth? Again, it may just be more 'conjecture' from his perspective, exactly as he says. How can he know that (i.e., that we cannot know anything about God) about God?

MYTH #5: "There is no such thing as intelligent design or an Intelligent Designer. Everything in the Universe (including the Universe itself) came into existence by the accident and pure chance of random evolutionary forces. There is no God, no Supreme Being or Omnipotent Creator at work in the Universe."

REBUTTAL: Said the man who earlier had said that 'we cannot know anything about God and Creation'. Nevertheless, if there really were no intelligent design, or an Intelligent Designer, an Omnipotent Creator or a Supreme Being involved in the original creation and daily maintenance of the Universe, then why do the atheist-evolutionists value so highly such sought-after things as academic excellence, technological innovation, and scientific genius?

And why do they always use intelligently designed arguments (such as debates, talk-shows, lectures, symposiums, research-projects, palaeontological excavations, museum-exhibitions, technical-articles in science-journals, academic theses & dissertations, books, newspaper-articles, press-releases, fossil-displays, textbooks, encyclopaedias, glossy wall-charts, educational curriculums, school-visits etc.) in order to promote their atheist-evolutionist worldview?

And why do they always use the tools and equipment of intelligent design (such as state-of-the-art laboratories, sophisticated and expensive scientific instruments, higher mathematics, molecular biology, biochemistry, astrophysics etc.

- How stupid of 'Evolution' to produce a species (Homo sapiens sapiens) that believes in God, wants to pray & read the Bible, and wants to worship Jesus Christ!
- How stupid of 'Evolution' to produce a species that works against its own values and principles and policies by rather pursuing traditional Biblical values, the Christian Faith, Creationism, Absolute Truth, and Absolute Morality instead of 'Evolution'? Why couldn't 'Evolution' have produced a species more loyal to its own kind and ethos? Now, Evolution, because of its ineptness, is having to contend with a palace revolution on its hands.
- How stupid of 'Evolution' to create a 'science' ('atheism-evolutionism') that cannot sustain itself without the midwife of universities, academics, scientists, research grants & research-labs, scientific instruments, debates, symposiums, museums, academic theses & dissertations, technical articles in scientific journals!
- How stupid of 'Evolution' to produce a race so fraught with sin and 'mental illness' (committing all kinds of heinous crimes, war and acts of brutality)!
- How stupid of Evolutionists to use physics, palaeontology, anthropology, quantum mechanics, astrophysics, nuclear physics, laptop computers & computer graphics, cell-phones, iPads, GPS & Satellite DSTV, radio & TV etc. (intelligently designed tools) with which to support their many theories, hypotheses, and theories?

Reality check: In complete contrast to what the atheist-evolutionists believe, the Bible says that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom:

[Job 28:28 KJV]

"And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding."

MYTH #6: "To believe in God is a form of mental illness!"

REBUTTAL: Here the atheist-evolutionists are indicting themselves and putting themselves and their own ideology on trial: If this were true (i.e. that to believe in God was a form of mental illness), then where did 'Evolution' itself go wrong by causing these pathologies in the first place?

If 'Evolution' were really true, it would make more sense to teach that the primates (apes, baboons, and monkeys etc.) had actually evolved from humans (just the other way around), for apes do not steal peoples' cell-phones, hijack cars and embezzle funds ... so what had gone wrong with 'Progressive Evolution'?

Some geneticists are even now, as I write, beginning to teach that, because of 'mutations' in the human genome carried forward from generation to generation, the human race is actually devolving, and not evolving. And, why has 'Homo sapiens sapiens', over time, shown moral decline instead of moral progress? Let's face this embarrassing fact, apes have enough common sense not to change into a human being after six beers ... but, can we say the same about humans?

MYTH #7: "There is no such place or thing as Hell!"

REBUTTAL: Says the man who earlier had said that 'we cannot know anything about God and Creation'. Nevertheless, go tell that to the decrepit drug addict and the hopeless, destitute alcoholic in our slums and informal settlements; go tell that to the lonely and abused orphan trying to eke out a living in a 19th century work-house or an orphanage; go tell that to the hapless victim of the Islamic Jihadist or to the cremated dead from Hitler's Holocaust; go tell that to the victims of a traumatic divorce and custody battle, or to the victims of a tsunami in Indonesia and earthquake in Turkey or Yemen; go tell that to slave-labourers in the orient or the child-victims of people-trafficking and prostitution. These people will probably all look you in the eye and reply: "Yeah right ... no Hell my foot!" Hell is any place (and condition) where God does not reign supreme.

Bear in mind that the same Bible that stated (and the same Jesus who said) there is a Heaven also taught that there is a Hell; so, if we want to remove Hell from the theological equation, we must be consistent and remove Heaven from the equation too ... we cannot eat our cake and have it.

Nobody likes to talk about Hell, because we all stand as Hell-deserving sinners before a Holy God, and, if saved, saved by the GRACE of God through Jesus Christ our Lord. Having said that, bear in mind that to the same measure in which the ungodly, the despotic ruler and the reckless psychopath meted out the horrors of Hell to his innocent and hapless victims, the horrors of Hell will, unless he repents, one day be meted out to him when God finally demands the ultimate retribution from him.

Scientific fact: No man warned against Hell more than Jesus of Nazareth had done; so, to say or assert that there is no such thing as 'Hell' would make Jesus Christ a liar. Both Jesus and the Bible in general (e.g. the Epistles of the New Testament) often equated ‘Hell’ with ‘perishing’, so whatever the concept of ‘Hell’ means, whether it is a place, a condition, a process, or simply total eventual obliteration is immaterial ... the fact is that it cannot be fun, for it is going to be a situation where God has turned His back on one never again to return. Bear in mind that Jesus, however, has bent backwards at Calvary to prevent us from perishing, and therefore warns:

[Matthew 10:28 KJV]

“And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

[Matthew 5:29]

And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

[Luke 13:5]

I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish

[John 3:16]

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

[John 10:28]

And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

[Colossians 1:18]

For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God.”

MYTH #8: “I am too evil and too bad to be saved; it is too late for God to have mercy on me!”

REBUTTAL: Not necessarily. The Bible teaches that Salvation, and the forgiveness of sin cannot be earned on the personal merit of a good moral performance or through a pious and exemplary life, but only by faith in Jesus Christ as the Messiah and Saviour of the world. Had we been able to earn ‘salvation’ on the personal merit of pious behaviour, an exemplary life, and the accumulation of good (deeds, Jesus Christ would have died for our sins unnecessarily. The Bible clearly teaches that anyone can be saved provided he confesses Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour, and that God will have mercy on all who come to Him in a sincere desire to repent and be saved:

[John 1:12 KJV]

“But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:

[Romans 1:16a KJV]

For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth;

[Hebrews 5:8 KJV]

Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered;

[Hebrews 5:9 KJV]

And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

[John 3:16 KJV]

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

[John 3:17 KJV]

For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

[Romans 10:9 KJV]

That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

[Titus 2:11 KJV]

For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men.”

MYTH #9: “The human race has evolved from an early ‘hominid’ that shared a mutual ancestor with primates!”

REBUTTAL: Do the math ... even a child knows that primates are not humans and humans are not primates.

The many remarkable similarities between the human race and primates thus are not because of a mutual ancestor, but because of an intelligent, innovative mutual Creator and Designer ... Jesus Christ. The whole idea of Nature having evolved is a desperate effort by desperate atheist-evolutionists to discredit the Bible, the Genesis Creation Account, and the Gospel of Jesus Christ (desperate times call for desperate measures; desperate cats don desperate hats).

They have given up burning the Bible, banning it, or trying to destroy it, so they have no other recourse today but to spread doubt ... the same old strategy of Satan in Eden: “Has God said?” Only, today it comes in a different coat: “Has the Bible really said?” or “Does Genesis really teach?”

The battle will get more violent as time goes by and as the end-times are encroaching on their ideological comfort zones. The plans of the atheists are increasingly thrown into panic and disarray as archaeologists in the Middle East uncover relic after relic and archaeological site after site validating the Bible's historicity and validity; and as apocalyptic changes in world-politics are developing pointing inexorably to the imminence of the Second Coming of Jesus Christ and the White Throne Judgment. They will do anything to deny God and the Bible ... just like Cleopatra, the Queen of Denial.

MYTH #10: "Atheist-evolutionists rely on science, and not on religion, to make their case!"

REBUTTAL. We have earlier seen that the atheist-evolutionists cannot prove the validity of the so-called 'scientific method', as no known algorithms or protocols exist for empirically proving their statement that, "Only statements that can be scientifically, logically or empirically proved are true!" itself can be tested for correctness and/or validity.

Both Christian Creationism and Atheism-Evolutionism are therefore religions or systems of faith. For instance, whereas the Christian-Creationist worships God in the Holy Trinity of Father, Son and Holy Spirit, the atheist-evolutionist worships the trinity of Father Time, Mother Nature and the atheist-evolutionist's designated 'messiah', Charles Darwin.

This perversion of religion and faith (just another religious cult) will one day be driven to the ultimate conclusion at the end of the age with the appearance of the ultimate diabolical and unholy trinity of Satan, Anti-Christ, and False Prophet, just prior to the Second Coming of Jesus Christ.

Atheism-Evolutionism is nothing more than fortune-telling in reverse. Having said that, and having considered all the pseudo-scientific 'messiahs' and intellectual 'idols' of the average atheist-evolutionist, consider what God thinks about people like that:

[Isaiah 41:22 KJV]

"Let them bring them forth, and shew us what shall happen: let them shew the former things, what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them; or declare us things for to come.

[Isaiah 41:23]

[Isaiah 41:24]

Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you."

This is the supreme irony: The atheist-evolutionists spend millions of dollars on primate-research, communication-technology, and scientific protocols in order to learn to speak to primates such as chimps & gorillas, yet they refuse to speak to God ... for free (?).

MYTH #11: “The public should put their trust in ‘Scientism’ (the ‘Scientific Method’), and not in the Christian's Creationism and/or the Gospel of Jesus Christ!”

REBUTTAL. The atheist-evolutionist tells us over and over that his mind has evolved from a 'hominid' that shared a mutual ancestor with the primates ... so how does he expect us to believe him when he makes such silly statements as, "There is no such thing as Absolute Truth!"; or "There are no Moral Absolutes!"; or "My brain has evolved from those of hominids who shared a mutual ancestor with primates!"; and "I am related to the chimpanzee, my nearest cousin in the wild! (?)". If the chimp really were his nearest cousin, then why does he let the poor chimp fly in the airplane's cargo-hold along with savage and dangerous wild animals, and not in the passenger-compartment with his cousin?

If there were really no such thing as ‘Absolute Truth’ then obviously the atheist-evolutionist is lying in most of the things he is trying to tell us, and even on those rare days when he is actually technically correct, it is not surprising at all, for even a stopped clock could still be 100% correct and deadly accurate at least twice a day.

Atheist-evolutionists furthermore often complain that the Bible is not a 'scientific manual'. Well, thank God for that, for had it been a scientific manual, we would have had to edit and change it every 5 years or so (so much for 'scientific precision').

We have already seen that, unfortunately for all of us, the so-called ‘Scientific Method’ is neither valid nor conclusive in scientific research, especially in the uncertain fields of Cosmology and the Origins of Life, for numerous reasons:

- The ‘Scientific Method’ cannot be conclusively validated, as protocols and/or algorithms for the empirical/scientific validation of the statement itself that ‘only empirically observable and verifiable facts are accepted as true and valid in science’ does not exist.
- Scientists/Astronomers/Astrophysicists/Cosmologists etc. can only comment on about 5% of the Universe, as 95% of the rest of the Universe still constitutes what is referred to as that unknown section described as ‘dark matter & dark energy’, an area of mystery to scientists.

- Visible light (i.e. that portion of light visible to the human eye) constitutes only a minuscule section of the total Electromagnetic Spectrum. Humans, including scientists and atheist-evolutionists are, in other words, practically more than 90% blind. No wonder 95% of the Universe is still, scientifically speaking, an unknown quantity. Electromagnetic radiation (types) are broadly classified into the following classes:

- Gamma radiation
- X-ray radiation
- Ultraviolet radiation
- VISIBLE radiation
- Infrared radiation
- Terahertz radiation
- Microwave radiation
- Radio waves

When astronomers peer into space with their sophisticated telescopes, and especially with the Hubble Telescope, they observe galaxies, galaxy clusters and stars billions of light-years away, e.g. ‘Hubble Deep Field’ etc. The problem is that they, by their own admission, are at most observing the ‘optical history’ of the Universe; they are seeing the immense past, and not the current universal present.

Who knows what is really happening out there, especially if we take into consideration the fact that we are practically blind as far as the Electromagnetic Spectrum and visible light is concerned; and reportedly only 5% of the Universe is known to scientists. What if what they see and teach as ‘truth’ actually is no more than obsolete, irrelevant, ancient history? What would happen if our eyes could be opened and we all could see what is really happening out there in ‘real-time’, and in ‘practical’ and ‘immediate’ terms?

In the meantime, everything they say about Cosmology and the Origins of Life can only be treated as interesting conjecture at best. The teaching of the religious cult of Atheism-Evolutionism are, for all practical purposes, a matter of the blind leading the blind, or fortune-telling in reverse.

Christians, on the other hand, have sufficient empirical evidence for the existence of God than most, e.g. Old & New Testament attestation of the Scriptures with the aid of an embarrassing cornucopia of valid, authentic ancient manuscripts; the testimony of Biblical Archaeology, a bona fide scientific discipline that churns out archaeological evidence for the authenticity of the Bible with the almost monotonous regularity of the beat of a reliable washing machine; (iii) the daily observance of the complexities of and intelligent design behind animals and plants in Nature (Zoology, botany etc.) including the baffling complexity and sophistication of the flagellum of the bacterium, DNA, Chlorophyll etc.; (iv) the wonder and beauty of the visible Universe etc. The atheist-evolutionists are, as the Bible says, without any excuse:

[Romans 1:20 KJV]

“For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse.”

MYTH #12: “Atheism-Evolutionism promises the ultimate answers to all of mankind's questions!”

REBUTTAL. Considering the fact that atheism-evolutionism preaches death, destruction, and the human race’s biological recycling back into the Nature in the form of compost; and furthermore ideologically makes no provision for any Heaven, Salvation, forgiveness of sins; Reconciliation with God, the Justification by Faith in the Saviour Jesus Christ, or Eternal Life, what do atheist-evolutionists actually have to look forward too? What do they really have to offer ... the ultimate death-cult of ‘Evolution’ or Scientism’s final solution, i.e. the ‘Dead Poets Society’?

Even if atheism-evolutionism were true, who in his right mind would then anyway still involve himself with such a hopeless and empty message, negative ideology and ‘anti-gospel’ (i.e., bad, unwelcome news) of death? The New Testament word ‘Gospel’ means good news; so what news does the atheist-evolutionist have that is worth celebrating at all?

Atheism-Evolutionism is the ultimate ideological cul de sac. Wouldn’t the rational and reasonable mind then rightly describe such futile endeavours of the atheist-evolutionist (to preach and teach atheism-evolutionism) as the product of a society gone academically and scientifically insane, actually teaching ‘Scientific Pantheism’?

The million-yen question: If no Intelligent Designer were involved with the design of our human brain, was whoever else designed it (dumb, random & brainless Evolution?) intelligent enough to design it for intelligent thinking at all? C.S. Lewis has, in fact, rightly pointed out that we cannot use ‘thought’ (per se) to disprove God, as our thoughts are hopelessly too unreliable for such an exercise. Without an Intelligent Designer (as the atheist-evolutionist believes) our brains would (in that case) anyway obviously not have been designed for intelligent thought in the first place at all and should all 'scientific conjecture and philosophical speculation' at best be left alone.

Furthermore, the puzzling assertion by a world-famous scientist that, when a person dies he is completely destroyed and obliterated like an obsolete and redundant 'computer hard-drive', has left many people even more bewildered and mystified, and again science has only succeeded in baffling and confounding the 'nation' instead of clearing up matters. As I have alluded to before: The atheist-evolutionists are experts in painting themselves into philosophical corners.

Imagine a brand-new computer hard-drive: Where did it come from ... fall out of the sky? Who made it in the first place ... did it 'evolve' through natural selection? In all honesty, was the hard-drive not made by a manufacturer in a factory? Was it not made for a specific purpose and function? Was its conception and manufacture not intelligently designed by an expert and planned in advance? And who decided to (much later) discard and destroy it anyway ... natural selection or the regular user of the particular computer?

As C.S. Lewis says, the atheists are experts at identifying the fern-seeds of atheism-evolutionism from miles away, but cannot recognise the elephant of intelligent design standing right beside them. Who has ever heard of a project (the Universe!) without a Project Engineer; or a grand piece of architecture (the Universe!) without an Architect; or an enormous construction-site (the Universe!) without a Civil Engineer; or an expensive, materials-intensive metropolis (the Universe!) without a Cost Engineer?

In real life not even the experts mentioned above will always succeed in delivering projects (minuscule in scale in comparison to the Universe) successfully ... how did dumb, brainless and random 'evolutionary processes' (by way of 'natural selection') then manage to 'create' the Universe (unsupervised in the absence of a Principle Contractor!) over 'billions of years'?

Some notes:

- 'Billions of years' in the 'natural selection process' (or in the 'evolutionary recipe') would complicate things only further ... ask any gambler or person acquainted with gambling, the dynamics of statistical odds and the mathematical laws of probability. I also gambled and played the horses once (when I was still 'evolving') and it was always easier to guess the winning combination in a race with four legs than to guess the winning combination in a race with six legs ... the more 'legs' the organisers add to the racing mix the more the odds are stacked against the poor betting fool. The more 'billions of years' the evolutionists add to the chronological mix the more the odds are stacked against 'evolution' to happen spontaneously, so much so that it will not happen at all.

- Even if it were found to be true and valid, the term 'natural selection' would anyway still sound a lot like intelligent design to me.
- Whether God made the Universe or 'Evolution' made the Universe, both ideas or beliefs would still represent 'creationism' per se; the only difference is that, whereas the Christian Creationists believe that the Holy Trinity (of God the Father, the Son Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit) was the 'first cause', the atheist-evolutionist believes that the profane trinity of Father Time, Mother Nature and the anti-gospel of 'Evolution' (as preached by their designated messiah, Charles Darwin) were responsible as the original cause. In the final analysis the atheist-evolutionists are nothing less than Darwinian creationists themselves anyway.
- Even if dumb, brainless, and random 'Evolution' were true, which it of course isn't, who created 'Evolution' in the first place anyway? For instance, before 'Evolution' could proceed, 'Evolution' first has had to make ('patent') the very idea of 'Evolution' itself; and then it has had to patent the cool idea of 'natural selection'; and then it has had to prepare and out of the blue ('ex nihilo' out of nothing!) manufacture atoms, the Periodic Table of the Elements, the Electromagnetic Spectrum, Universal Gravitation, and the weak and strong Nuclear Forces. What an amazing feat! Then it had to make sure that everything worked perfectly like clockwork and also appeared intelligently designed to astronomers, astrophysicists, cosmologists, theologians, and philosophers to fool the Christian Creationists into the 'erroneous' idea that some 'God' actually did it; how stupid of dumb, brainless, and random 'Evolution' working through the natural, uniformitarian processes of chaos! (i.e. how can a house so divided against itself remain standing?).

MYTH #13: "Fossils prove Evolution!"

REBUTTAL. False. Fossils only prove that (i) the catastrophic Biblical Flood of Noah had actually (historically, literally) taken place exactly as explained by the Genesis Creation Record of the Bible and (ii) that all living things on Earth eventually die.

Today's oil reserves in the earth were probably created when animals, especially marine organisms, were destroyed and buried in sediment under intense pressure during the Biblical Flood; and today's coal reserves were probably created when the plants and trees were crushed and buried in sediment under intense pressure during the Biblical Flood. This was God's method of geologically documenting the Biblical Flood so that people today can be sure of the authenticity and validity of the Biblical Creation Account in Genesis.

Many experts today will probably agree that fossilization in history (en masse) had taken place rather quickly before any scavengers or the vagaries of weather could destroy such candidates for fossilization beforehand. This, of course, defies the atheist-evolutionist's theory that fossilization had taken place gradually over 'billions of years'.

MYTH #14: "Unlike Christians, atheist-evolutionists are always scientifically consistent in what they teach!"

REBUTTAL. On the contrary ... atheist-evolutionists can sometimes say the most unscientific of things, for instance:

- "We BELIEVE in Evolution!" (This is typical religious terminology; their absurd ideology [pseudo-science] requires a great deal of 'religious faith').
- "The cheetah (hunting leopard) was DESIGNED for speed, and not for long-distance running!" (Admitting to the demand for an intelligent DESIGNER).
- "The lion is a most remarkable CREATURE!" (Admitting to the demand for a divine CREATOR).
- "Nature rewards SURVIVORS with LONGEVITY!" (Nonsensical TAUTOLOGY: "Why has the crocodile survived for so long? Because it is a survivor! Why has it survived? Because of its amazing longevity!" "Animals who survive will live for a long time!").
- "Religion is EVIL!" (Implying the existence of GOOD, without which EVIL is impossible to observe or discern, as EVIL is, generally speaking, the antithesis of GOOD [the thesis], while atheist-evolutionists by default deny the existence of good vs. evil, or of a good God and a bad Devil. If religion were really evil, then it would beg the question: "As compared to what?" In other words, how do atheist-evolutionists know that religion is evil?

P.S. Technically speaking, however, EVIL is actually the total absence of GOOD, as is darkness is not the opposite of but the actual absence of light. In the Bible EVIL is often equated with DARKNESS, and GOOD with LIGHT. Bear in mind the velocity of LIGHT (approx. 300 000 kps. in vacuo) and the speed of DARKNESS (zero!). Atheism-Evolutionism (darkness, evil, ignorance) is going nowhere, folks.

MYTH #15: “Christians believe that the Earth is flat and is mounted on pillars!”

REBUTTAL. False. The Bible has been teaching for millenniums that:

- the Earth is a SPHERE (i.e. round) for instance in [Isaiah 40:22 KJV]: “It is he that sitteth upon the CIRCLE of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in.”
- the Earth is suspended in SPACE.

[Job 26:7 KJV]:

“He stretcheth out the north over the empty place, and HANGETH the earth upon NOTHING”.

(Capitals are mine for emphasis).

Bear in mind that it suits the atheist-evolutionists to perpetuate this myth about what Christians allegedly believe only in order to ridicule them, God, and the Bible.

MYTH # 16: “Man can only acquire true WISDOM through SCIENTISM, i.e. the blind worship of science!”

REBUTTAL: On the contrary: True wisdom comes from the fear of God. The problem with the atheist-evolutionists is that they do not fear God ... period. The Bible teaches:

[Job 28:28 KJV]

“And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding.

[Proverbs 26:12 KJV]

Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him.

[John 3:16 KJV]

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. AMEN.”

MYTH #17: “Atheist-Evolutionists reject God, the Bible and the Gospel of Jesus Christ because they are smarter than Christians!”

REBUTTAL. On the contrary ... the Bible (and not I!) calls atheists ‘fools’. In truth, according to Jesus of Nazareth, the real reason why people reject God, the Bible and the Gospel of Jesus Christ is because they are evil and have chosen the DARKNESS (evil, the lie) above the LIGHT (good, the truth), simply because it is convenient for them to do so. In the final analysis, everyone will, however, bow before Jesus Christ as the Lord, either willingly as His disciple or kicking and screaming under compulsion at the Great White Throne Judgment:

[Psalms 53:1a KJV]

“To the chief Musician upon Mahalath, Maschil, A Psalm of David.
The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.

[John KJV 3:19]

And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

[John 3:20 KJV]

For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reprov'd.

[Romans 14:11 KJV]

For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

[Philippians 2:10 KJV]

That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth.”

MYTH #18: “Charles Darwin explained the origin of the species!”

REBUTTAL. Darwin explained absolute zero about the origins of the species, and the atheist-evolutionists are no closer today to the truth about the origins of species than they were in 1859 when Darwin first authored his racist book,

‘On the Origin of the Species through Natural Selection or the Preservation of Favoured Races in the Struggle for Life’

P.S. Notice the racist slur in ‘favoured races’.

MYTH #19: “God is cruel, because only a cruel God would allow so many people to suffer so much for so long from war, crime, natural disasters, disease, homelessness, poverty and hunger!”

REBUTTAL. Now, how a God that purportedly does not exist can be cruel is not clear, but here are the facts:

- God spoke the Universe into existence by the word of His mouth. The word 'universe' (i.e. 'uni' & 'verse') actually means a 'a single spoken sentence'. The Bible says:

[Genesis 1:3 KJV]

“And God said, Let there be light: and there was light.”

- God did not need ‘billions of years’ to create the world in ... in fact, He created TIME itself too by the word of His mouth. When He made the Universe, He spoke (i) the three dimensions of SPACE (Length, Breadth & Width), (ii) the three dimensions of TIME (Past, Present and Future) and the (iii) three dimensions of MATTER (Solids, Liquids & Gasses) into existence all simultaneously; so how could it have taken ‘billions of years’ for the world to come into existence if TIME itself then did not exist yet? (Another ‘Catch-22’ philosophical impasse for the atheist-evolutionist)
- Where the atheist-evolutionists go wrong is that they confuse the God of Heaven & Earth (The ‘YHVH’ of the Hebrews) with the ‘god of this world’ (Satan). The Bible says:

[2 Corinthians 4:4 KJV]

“In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.”

The problem is that Satan (currently) is the ‘god of this world’ and that he is truly diabolical, brutal, and cruel. The atheist-evolutionists (and some bitter Christians sometimes too) then go and interpret the works of the ‘god of this world’ (Satan) as those of the God of Heaven & Earth, and then draw the erroneous conclusion that the God of Heaven & Earth is cruel. The very purpose of the anticipated (literal) Second Coming of Jesus Christ is to supplant the current rule of Satan as the ‘god of this world’ with the righteous reign of our current King-in-exile, Jesus Christ.

- For the atheist-evolutionists to say that ‘God is cruel’ is a philosophical anomaly anyway. As I have mentioned earlier, how could a God who ‘does not exist’ be cruel? And, even if He were cruel, what did it matter? As the highest authority in the Universe would it not (hypothetically) make sense for everybody to still find out what He wants and do what He says, if life then were really all about ‘survival of the fittest’ as the atheist-evolutionists teach. Are not those who say they are the ‘fittest’ not supposed to gripe, moan, and complain like babies all day long about their ‘Evolution’?

- How can the atheist-evolutionist know that God is ‘cruel’ if the point-of-departure of atheist-evolutionist reasoning is that there are no such things as good, evil, goodness & kindness, hatred and brutality, cruelty etc. in the first place? In the atheists’ mind and policy of ‘relative morality’ and ‘situational ethics’, how did the atheists know that ‘God is cruel’ unless the dichotomy of kindness vs. cruelty actually existed?

Philosophically-speaking, cruelty is impossible without kindness, as cruelty is the antithesis of its thesis, kindness. The very fact that the atheist-evolutionist understands the concept of ‘cruelty’ again concedes the fact that even the atheist-evolutionist was made in the image of God and can discern the difference between darkness vs. light, evil vs. good, and cruelty (the fruit of hatred and lack of compassion) vs. kindness (the fruit of love and compassion).

- The bottom-line: If cruelty (the result of hatred and lack of compassion) exists, then kindness (the result of love and compassion) must of necessity exist too, otherwise the atheist-evolutionists would not have been able to know and say that ‘God is cruel’. Ask any economist and he will confirm that the ‘VALUE’ of an object, product or an idea is derived by the intellectual or emotional exercise of ‘comparison’ between objects, products, and ideas.

MYTH #20: “Miracles are impossible!”

REBUTTAL. It is exactly because miracles are impossible that we believe in them. Why? Firstly, if miracles were possible, they would not have been called ‘miracles’, but ordinary and possible, everyday ‘events’, ‘incidents’, or ‘occurrences’. An ordinary and ‘possible’ everyday event would thus not have been noticed, described, or discerned by the onlooker as a ‘miracle’. Miracles are impossible exactly to make them stand out among events and noticeable as amazing, out-of-the-ordinary occurrences. Miracles (‘Impossible happenings’) are thus sometimes allowed by the Almighty Creator so that we, the people who such miracles often may happen to, can notice, discern, and observe the difference between an ordinary and miraculous event when they happen, otherwise it would have gone unnoticed as everybody probably would not have given the ‘miracle’ a second thought.

The strict, inflexible, stubborn, and intractable Laws of Nature are thus necessary as a first requirement for miracles to happen, as miracles are the (temporary, apparent) overruling or superseding of such Laws of Nature in order to accomplish some miraculous objective; so, had there been no Laws of Nature, the miracle would have had nothing to override or supersede, i.e., miracles would thus have been unlikely to exist. Miracles exist exactly because they are impossible in the first place (hence the word ‘miracle’).

Miracles are supposed to be impossible by default, for that is what qualifies them as miracles and what makes them so fascinating. The minimum requirement thus for a miracle to happen is (i) for it to be impossible in the first place, otherwise it would not qualify as a bona fide miracle at all, and, (ii) secondly, for it to be forbidden by the Natural Laws of physics.

Christians therefore believe in miracles for the very fact that they are impossible, so for the atheist-evolutionist to say that ‘miracles are impossible’ is an absurd, nonsensical statement. One might just as well walk through the streets with a placard that reads, “Unlawful actions are illegal ... “ (Duh ...?).

When miracles happen they will thus of necessity be noticed and attract out-of-the-ordinary attention, whereas ordinary, ‘possible’ events probably would not as much as have raised an eyebrow. The Creator therefore has the right, influence, power, and stature to override the laws of physics and the rules of nature in any way whenever and however He wants should He find it for whatever reason expedient, and who will dare to ever question Him? During His short tenure on earth Jesus Christ did it all the time.

The atheists’ problem is that they do not believe in in “impossible miracles”. According to their superior logic they prefer “possible miracles”.

MYTH #21: “Jesus of Nazareth was not God in the flesh, but an ordinary ascetic and prophet, perhaps just like Moses, Buddha, Mohammed and Zoroaster!”

REBUTTAL: No ... this argument is invalid. The life and ministry of Jesus of Nazareth was unique beyond mortal comparison. Apart from the fact that He had died on the Cross and had miraculously risen from the grave and ascended to Heaven; and apart from the many eyewitness-attested miracles (including the resurrection) His life was unique in other remarkable ways too. For instance:

- Of all the so-called ‘mystics’ and ‘ascetics’ of history, only Jesus of Nazareth ever claimed to be God, who made no secret about the claim. Usually one will encounter people and great spiritual leaders either (i) too wise, modest, intelligent, and morally responsible to ever make such an outrageous claim (like the Greek philosopher, Socrates), or (ii) too arrogant, psychotic, and insane not to make such a claim (like the Roman emperor, Caligula). Jesus of Nazareth did neither and broke the mould of tradition and logic by being wise and intelligent enough to make the claim (that He was God) anyway, in spite of the controversy it could have caused and eventually did cause ... simply because it was true. The Bible says:

[John 8:23 KJV]

“And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world.

[John 8:58 KJV]

Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.”

The claim to divinity by Jesus of Nazareth and that He was the Son of God also was not attributed to Him by his followers because they were gullible and due to their misunderstanding as a result of the vagaries of human nature either. Jesus was the only spiritual leader of history that ever claimed to be God in the flesh as Immanuel (‘God with us’), and claimed it with absolute success by delivering what He had promised ... His crucifixion and His resurrection from the dead.

That doyen of English and Renaissance literature, and an expert in the dynamics of fairy tales and myths, C.S Lewis, has pointed out that, either Jesus was insane, or He was speaking the truth, and that the testimony of His noble character, exemplary life and remarkable and incomparable ministry vindicated his belief in Him as the Saviour of mankind and the only legitimate and authentic Mediator between God and men. Theologians and psychologists have testified time and again that Jesus of Nazareth did not fit the profile of an insane or psychotic persona, but, on the contrary, the profile of a very sane, wise, and sensitive sage with a ministry of teaching and Biblical revelation unequalled in the annals of written history. So, in terms of what kind of psychological profile or model would an ‘insane’ Jesus have been able to heal the madman of the country of Gadarene of his insanity? (Mark 5:1-19).

MYTH #22: “The very fact that Jesus of Nazareth referred to Himself as ‘The Son of Man’ confirmed His mortal nature void of any ‘divinity’ and automatically nullifies His claim as the Son of God in a divine sense.”

REBUTTAL: On the contrary did Jesus, by His references to Himself as the ‘The Son of Man’, actually reiterate and emphasize His divine origins, position, and status. With this phrase He was reminding His audience of His unique Messianic mission as prophesied by the prophet Daniel, many centuries earlier. In the Book of Daniel we read about the Second Coming of Jesus Christ at the end of the ages as the prophesied ‘Son of Man’, and Jesus always wanted to make sure that His followers clearly understood His claim as the much-anticipated Biblical Messiah (the ‘Son of Man’) as prophesied by Daniel:

[Daniel 7:13 KJV]

“I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.”

(Italics are mine, for emphasis)

MYTH #23: “Who says that Jesus of Nazareth was necessarily the real and authentic (prophesied) Messiah of the Old Testament? Hypothetically-speaking, couldn’t anyone still come and today legally lay claim to that title?”

REBUTTAL. No, they can’t. Most theologians and expositors of the Bible, and especially those in the field of ‘Eschatology’ (the study of the end times) acquainted with the Messianic prophecies of the Old Testament, will tell us that Jesus of Nazareth appeared on the pages of history at the exact moment in history and in the exact prophetic window culminating from the Messianic prophecies from the Old Testament to make Him the only legitimate heir to the title of the anticipated Messiah.

Anyone coming to the fore today trying to usurp the title of the ‘anticipated Messiah’ will probably be laughed out of the synagogue, as he will, prophetically speaking, have missed the prophetic bus by more than 2000 years. Only Jesus of Nazareth fits the Messianic profile of the anticipated and prophesied Messiah of the Bible and the timing of His birth, ministry, death, and resurrection was prophetically spot-on and only that one time in history, never to be repeated again. If Jesus of Nazareth were not the true Messiah, then nobody else will ever be either.

MYTH #24: “The Apostle Peter was singled out by Jesus of Nazareth as the designated Head of the Christian Church and as the (de facto) first Pope of the Roman Catholic Church.”

REBUTTAL. False. If this were true, it would make the Apostle Peter the foundation and rock upon which the Christian Church on Earth is founded, while the Bible clearly teaches that Jesus of Nazareth (the Christ), and not Peter, is the only true foundation and rock upon which the Christian Church is founded:

[1 Corinthians 3:11 KJV]

“For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.”

The scripture behind the assertion i.e. that the Apostle Peter is the ‘rock’ upon which the Church is founded, was erroneously derived as follows:

[Matthew 16:18 KJV]

“And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.”

What Jesus had meant was (and I paraphrase): “You are ‘Petros’, a small pebble (pointing to Peter), but on this ‘Petra’ (Rock) (pointing to Himself) I will build my Church!” How convenient for anyone to now come and lay claim to that august status. Peter could not have been a Pope anyway, for he was married. The original Greek explains the critical difference words Petros and Petra as follows:

Petros (ref. to the Apostle Peter) = Gk. “Small Pebble”

Petra (ref. to Jesus) = Gk. ‘Rock’

(The reader is welcome to check out the many lexicons and Bible-dictionaries online at E-Sword [www.e-sword.net] to verify my correction for validity).

Bear in mind that, not only was Peter married (once his mother-in-law had fallen ill), but he also once had to be reprimanded by Jesus (“Get thee behind me Satan!”) and later even by the Apostle Paul. He was impulsive, impetuous, and later, in Gethsemane, even cut off the Roman soldier’s ear.

Of all the disciples, the Apostle Peter certainly was the most unlikely candidate for such a lofty position as the ‘Rock’ upon which the Christian church was to be founded. If anything at all, the Apostle Paul, or the beloved disciple John, would have been far better candidates for that. Be that as it may, Jesus nevertheless had a good reason indeed for having chosen Peter to have made that historic announcement; the fact is that none of the other disciples had the right name for the analogy (Gk. 'Petra' vs. 'Petros') to fit the occasion.

Also bear in mind the Pope's disingenuous claim to the titles of "Holy Father", "Head of the Church" and "Vicar of Christ":

- God the Father is the Holy Father (not the Pope)
- Jesus Christ is the Head of the Church (not the Pope)
- The Holy Spirit is the Vicar of Christ (not the Pope)
- Jesus Christ is the Rock upon which the Church is founded (not the Apostle Peter/not the Pope).

MYTH #25: "The Laws of Physics have evolved from absolutely nothing into something by the pure, random, and accidental chance of dumb biological 'Evolution', and were not created by an Intelligent Designer or a Divine Creator!"

REBUTTAL. This statement does not make scientific sense. For anything to have evolved from nothing into something without outside intelligent help would have required a miracle of astronomical proportions, and I do not have enough faith to believe in that brand of science fiction ... in fact it is not even good science fiction.

Such a 'miracle' probably would anyway not have been able to happen, as we have seen earlier that, for a miracle to happen, it would first require the critical precedent of Natural Laws in order to have something (i.e. 'rule or law') to break, overrule or supersede. As the Natural Laws of Physics were not created yet or in existence at the time, such a scenario where the 'miracle' of a random and accidental 'evolutionary creation' was facilitated as a matter of course by simple chance (without the antecedent of the existence and availability of Natural Laws to break) appears to have been very unlikely.

All known Laws on Earth are formulated, promulgated, and produced by official Lawmakers, e.g. 'The Labour Law', or 'The Occupational Health & Safety Act', 'The Shops & Offices Act' or 'The Basic Conditions of Employment Act' etc. There are no laws without a lawgiver, and likewise does it make sense that the 'Laws of Physics' could only have been designed, promulgated, and given by a Divine Lawgiver, Jesus Christ, Master of the Universe. The Bible says:

[Hebrews 1:1 KJV]

"God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

[Hebrews 1:2 KJV]

Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds.”

For many decades, the communists in Russia and elsewhere have tried to convince us that ‘God is dead’ and that ‘Nature has made itself’. One then wonders how their intricate and complicated ideology works ... i.e. ‘God is dead’ and ‘Nature has made itself!’ Have they never wondered then who made Nature in the first place? Suddenly, long ago and out of the proverbial blue, ‘nothing’ exploded into ‘Nature’ for no reason whatsoever and presto ... that is why we have cell-phones, microwave-ovens, iPads, iPhones, Kindles, x-ray machines, electricity, radio, television, GPS, music, airplanes, trains, ships, cinema, weapons, jewellery, computers, exquisite fabrics, houses, flowers, solar systems, galaxies, procreation and recreation, romance, children etc.!

To add further insult to injury, ‘Nature’ then goes ahead and commits the ultimate social blunder: It creates people who believe in God and worship Jesus Christ as the authentic Word of God (in Person), who consider the Bible as the authentic Word of God (in writing), and who accept Jesus Christ as Saviour of the world. They preach the Good News of repentance, forgiveness of sin and Salvation, and even have the audacity to believe in Jesus Christ’s promise of Everlasting Life! Why did ‘Evolution’ or ‘Nature’ do that ... a death-wish perhaps?

Nevertheless, together atheism, evolutionism and communism have for years comprised the Great Triumvirate of evil. However, when communism fell in Russia and Stalin’s statue was brought down so ignominiously, the atheists apparently changed the triumvirate to atheism, evolutionism, and secular humanism ... nobody in his right mind wants to be associated with a loser.

MYTH #26: “The Universe has evolved into something from nothing by the dumb, accidental and random forces of Evolution!”

REBUTTAL. False. In our society, and subject to the Laws of Physics, the creator, manufacturer or maker of any product or object is always himself/herself more intelligent and more complex than that particular product or object. For instance, the cook baking a cake is always more intelligent and more complex than the cake he/she had baked, made, or produced. Henry Ford had had himself to be more complex and more intelligent than his brainchild could have produced the first Model-T Ford. The Maker, Creator or Manufacturer of a product or object is thus always more intelligent and more complex than the fruit of his intellect, and this is usually referred to as ‘The Law of Creatorship’.

Likewise, if we look at this grand and majestic Universe, so orderly constructed that even the atheist-evolutionist looks up to it and has to proclaim: "Behold the Cosmos!" ("The Magnificent Order!") instead of "The Magnificent Chaos!" which he actually preaches and teaches (i.e. 'Random and chaotic Evolution'), then we have no choice but to deduce that the Creator, Manufacturer and Maker of this wonderful product (the Universe), no matter how complex and intelligently designed, must of necessity Himself (as its Maker, Manufacturer and Creator) have been far more intelligent and complex than it.

Imagine the beauty, majesty, and grandeur of the Person (the Maker, Creator, Manufacturer) behind this beautiful, complex, and sophisticated machine or piece of real estate called the Universe? (the object/product). It boggles the mind and leaves us in speechless awe, and the person who cannot see this surely has no 'soul'.

MYTH #27: "The human race is evolving in line with 'Evolutionary' processes and is improving all the time!"

REBUTTAL. False. According to modern geneticists the human race is actually mutating generation-by-generation and therefore is (biologically) 'decaying' all the time ... in other words, the human race is 'devolving' instead of 'evolving'. This is confirmed in principle by 'The Second Law of Thermodynamics' which states that the Universe and everything in it is in a state of decay (called 'high entropy'), like a grandfather clock running down.

It thus stands to reason that someone then must have wound up this clock up in the beginning in the first place, which points to an Intelligent Watchmaker or Divine Clock Designer behind it all.

MYTH #28: "The 'Cambrian Explosion' proves 'Evolution.'"

REBUTTAL. False. The 'Cambrian Explosion', juxtaposed against the 'Pre-Cambrian', actually validates the Biblical Creation Account in Genesis, and is not compatible with the 'Theory of Evolution' at all. LIFE cannot evolve from non-life ... LIFE could only have come from LIFE, a principle known among biologists as biogenesis. Living matter only arises from other living matter.

MYTH #29: “All scientists believe in ‘Evolution’!”

REBUTTAL. False. Dr. Stanley Salthe, a scientific dissenter from Darwin, writes:

"Darwinian evolutionary theory was my field of specialization in biology. Among other things, I wrote a textbook on the subject thirty years ago. Meanwhile, however I have become an apostate from Darwinian Theory and have described it as part of modernism's origination myth. Consequently, I certainly agree that biology students at least should have the opportunity to learn about the flaws and limits of Darwin's theory while they are learning about the theory's strongest claims."

[Readers may download the extensive list of scientists today scientifically dissenting from Darwinism at link <http://www.dissentfromdarwin.org/>].

MYTH #30: “Evolution has made this Universe and in everything in it ‘ex nihilo’ from NOTHING!”

REBUTTAL. False. This myth that blind, dumb, brainless ‘Evolution’ has created the Universe and everything in it by chance through the random and accidental forces of ‘Nature’ is in fact one of the great mysteries in the atheist-evolutionists’ portfolio of unsolved scientific problems. Their problem? How blind, dumb, and brainless ‘Evolution’ miraculously could have created this (visible) Universe, approx. 30 billion light-years in diameter, ‘ex nihilo’ from NOTHING but (today) cannot even create a paper-airplane 30 cm. in length out of SOMETHING (Paper).

Field experiment: How would the reader prefer to make his child’s paper-airplane for him ... ask ‘Evolution’ to fold it for him or fold it for himself? (I thought so!).

MYTH #31: “There is no credible evidence in existence attesting to the physical, literal resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth from the dead following His crucifixion!”

REBUTTAL. According to Jewish custom two or three eyewitnesses were usually considered sufficient testimonial-evidence when cases were brought before Courts of Law. In the case of the Resurrection, here follows a list of the possible number of eyewitnesses that had attested to the resurrected Christ:

Mark 16:9: Mary Magdalene [Jerusalem].
Matthew 28:9: 'Other women' [Jerusalem].
1 Corinthians 15:5: Peter [Jerusalem].
Luke 24:15-31: Two disciples [Emmaus].
John 20:19,24: Ten apostles, Thomas absent [Jerusalem].
John 20:26-28: Eleven apostles, Thomas present [Jerusalem].
John 21:1-24: Seven disciples fishing [Sea of Galilee].
John 21:15-17: Jesus' charge to Peter [Sea of Galilee].
Matthew 28:16,17 & 1 Corinthians 15:5: Eleven apostles/twelve [Mountain in Galilee]
1 Corinthians 15:7: James [Place unknown]
1 Corinthians 15:6: Five-hundred brothers [Place unknown]
Acts 1:2-9: Eleven apostles [Bethany].
Acts 9:1-5 & 1 Corinthians 15:8: Saul (Paul) [Road to Damascus].

TOTAL NUMBER OF POSSIBLE EYEWITNESSES: [At least] 550 people!

MYTH #32: "The verdict of history does not support the literal, physical resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth from the dead following His crucifixion!"

REBUTTAL. False. In his book, The Case for Christ (pp.239), Lee Strobel cites the verdict of history emphatically:

- Can the biographies of Jesus be trusted? [YES!]
- Do the biographies of Jesus stand up to scrutiny [YES!]
- Were Jesus' biographies reliably reserved for us? [YES!]
- Is there credible evidence for Jesus outside His biographies? [YES!]
- Does archaeology confirm Jesus' biographies? [YES!]
- Is the Jesus of history the same as the Jesus of faith? [YES!]
- Was Jesus really convinced that He was the Son of GOD? [YES!]
- Was Jesus sane when He claimed to be the Son of GOD? [YES!]
- Did Jesus fulfil the attributes of GOD? [YES!]
- Did Jesus (and Jesus alone) match the identity of the Messiah? [YES!]
- Was the death and resurrection of Jesus a real fact of history? [YES!]
- Was Jesus' body really absent from His tomb? [YES!]
- Was Jesus seen alive after His death on the cross? [YES!]
- Are there any supporting facts that point to the resurrection? [YES!]
- Has the collection of evidence (about the resurrection) really been thorough? [YES!].

MYTH #33: “There is not enough attestation from the field of archaeology to support the authenticity and validity of the New Testament as a credible historical document!”

REBUTTAL. In his book, The Case for Christ (pp.239), Lee Strobel cites the fact that New Testament attestation from the field of archaeology comprises a wealth of manuscripts and fragments, i.e.:

- Greek (New Testament): More than 5 000
- Greek (‘The Jewish War’ by Flavius Josephus, Greek Manuscripts): 9
- ‘The Jewish War’ by Flavius Josephus (Latin Translation): 1
- ‘The Jewish War’ by Flavius Josephus (Russian Materials): Unquantified Assortment
- Greek New Testament (Papyrus): 39 Fragments
- Greek New Testament (Ancient Parchments, All Capital Greek Letters): 306
- Greek New Testament Manuscripts (‘Minuscule’): 2 856
- Greek New Testament Manuscripts (Legionaries): 2 403
- Latin Vulgate Manuscripts: 8 000-10 000
- Ethiopic, Slavic & Armenian Manuscripts: 8 000

F.F. Bruce, Eminent Professor at the University of Manchester (Lee Strobel: The Case For Christ) writes:

“There is no body of ancient literature in the world which enjoys such a wealth of good textual attestation as the New Testament.”

MYTH #34: “Jesus of Nazareth’s own worst enemies at the time can attest to the fact that Jesus’ claims to divinity were disingenuous and false!”

REBUTTAL. False. What character-witness can beat the ‘testimonial’ by Jesus’ own worst enemies when they verbally confirmed the authenticity and validity of His miracles and ministry? Bear in mind that they could have dismissed Him as a charlatan, a common magician or confidence-trickster, yet never did, or could find any credible incriminating evidence of note against Him:

[John 7:45 KJV]

“Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?”

[John 7:46]

The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.

[Mark 14:55]

And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none.

[John 11:46]

But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

[John 11:47]

Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.

[John 11:48]

If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation.”

MYTH #35: “The political realities and news-headlines of today do not bear out the truthfulness of the prophecies of Jesus of Nazareth (from the days of His ministry) concerning the end of days!”

REBUTTAL. As Jesus Himself was a prophet, it was to be expected that He sooner or later would have delivered some prophecies about the end times whenever He was engaged in the teaching of His disciples. For instance:

[Matthew 24:1 KJV]

“And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.

[Matthew 24:2]

And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

[Matthew 24:3]

And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

[Matthew 24:4]

And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.

[Matthew 24:5]

For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

[Matthew 24:6]

And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

[Matthew 24:7]

For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

[Matthew 24:8]

All these are the beginning of sorrows.

[Matthew 24:9]

Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

[Matthew 24:10]

And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

[Matthew 24:11]

And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.

[Matthew 24:12]

And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

[Matthew 24:13]

But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

[Matthew 24:14]

And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.”

The abovementioned prophecies of Jesus of Nazareth are being fulfilled before our very eyes as I write: Answer these questions truthfully:

- Are many today coming and saying (claiming) that they are the ‘Christ’ and are deceiving many? (Yes!)
- Do we hear of wars and rumours of wars? (Yes!)
- Are nations rising against nations, and kingdoms against kingdoms? (Yes!)
- Are there famines in diverse places? (Yes!)
- Are there pestilences in diverse places? (Yes!)
- Are there earthquakes in diverse places? (Yes!)
- Are Christians hated and killed for Jesus’ name sake? (Yes!)
- Are many offended and betraying one another? (Yes!)
- Are many false prophets rising and deceiving many? (Yes!)
- Is iniquity rising and the love of many waxing cold (for God, the Bible, Jesus, and the Gospel)? (Yes!)
- Is this gospel of Jesus Christ being preached in all the world as a witness unto all the nations? (Yes!).

MYTH #36: ‘The universal Church of Jesus Christ (i.e. the ‘Ecclesia’ or worldwide assembly of born-again believers) is declining and going out of fashion!’

REBUTTAL. False. The Church of Jesus Christ (i.e., the worldwide ‘Ecclesia’, and not a particular denomination) is still going from strength to strength and is practically bursting out of its seams, so to speak. Some congregations have resorted to the use of stadiums and memberships in the big metropolitan areas may number in the tens of thousands. The Gospel of Jesus Christ is being preached by evangelists in cities and pastors in small-towns everywhere; it is preached on the Internet and on DSTV worldwide thanks to satellite-TV; missionaries are filling the halls of schools and churches all over the world; communities in the Middle East and Asia previously inaccessible to ministers of the Gospel and Bible colporteurs are now reaching such forbidden corners of the world via digital TV and by way of websites and blogs everywhere. Books, magazines, and tracts are being sold or distributed for free all over the world without respite, and all this activity point to one thing ... the validity and authenticity of the bona fides, testimony, prophecies and promises of the Lamb of God whose blood was shed for the sins of the world on the cross at Calvary, Jesus Christ.

MYTH 37: “Unless one exhibits 100% faith in the God of the Bible and in Jesus Christ, one cannot be an authentic and legitimate Christian ... it is a matter of all or nothing!”

REBUTTAL. False. There is no such thing as 100% faith in the Bible and in God. The concept of faith will always comprise an element of doubt, which is normal. One may have 50% faith and 50% doubt, 80% faith and 20% doubt, or 99% faith and 1% doubt, but never 100% faith. One-hundred per cent ‘faith’ is a philosophical anomaly and would actually constitute ‘knowledge’, not faith.

For instance, when that hero of the faith Job finally reached the end of his tether and in complete exasperation cried,

[Job 42:2 KJV]

“I KNOW that thou canst do every thing, and that no thought can be withholden from thee.”

(Capitals are mine for emphasis), he has, intellectually, finally arrived to the full KNOWLEDGE of the awesome (impressive) reality of God. The Christian journey is a road of ‘little faith’ to ‘huge faith’ to ‘full knowledge’ or the absolute no-nonsense realization of the unquestionable reality of ‘YHWH’, the ‘I AM’ and Yahweh of Moses. This is the grand prize in spiritual development as far as faith is concerned, and the young Christian’s proverbial ‘journey of a thousand miles’ begins with the first (baby) step, i.e. faith as small and apparently insignificant as a mustard seed. The Bible says:

[Hebrews 11:6 KJV]

“But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.”

Notice how God honoured and rewarded Job for his persevering faith and eventual trust and confidence in the invincible power and resourceful mind of God:

[Job 42:11 KJV]

Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him: every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one an earring of gold.

[Job 42:12]

So the LORD blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.

[Job 42:13]

He had also seven sons and three daughters.

[Job 42:14]

And he called the name of the first, Jemima; and the name of the second, Kezia; and the name of the third, Kerenhappuch.

[Job 42:15]

And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

[Job 42:16]

After this lived Job an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations.”

[Job 42:17]

So Job died, being old and full of days.

As if this wasn't enough, God even answered his prayer when he earlier in sheer desperation had prayed:

[Job 19:23 KJV]

“Oh that my words were now written! oh that they were printed in a book!

[Job 19:24]

That they were graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock for ever!”

What a legacy ... the words of Job printed in a book (the Book of all books!) as good as graven with an iron pen and lead in a rock forever; this is how God rewards and honours those who, in childlike faith, believe that He IS and diligently SEEK Him!

MYTH #38: “The major species have evolved over millions of years and are still evolving today. Most species are still in ‘Evolutionary flux’ and will still be changing as time goes by ... bear in mind that ‘Evolution’ takes place very slowly over millions of years!”

REBUTTAL False. As he says ... ‘Evolution’ truly takes place slowly, so slowly that it actually never happens! For instance, has the reader ever observed ‘Evolution’ empirically (by way of approved and legitimate scientific protocols) still in action today in Nature? Has the reader ever physically observed the Geologic Column (‘Geologic Time Scale’) exactly as depicted in the atheist-evolutionists’ wall-charts, textbooks, and encyclopaedias? Has the reader ever seen any genuine transmediary fossils (the ‘missing links’ of the popular press) in museums as bona fide empirical (fossil) evidence for ‘Evolution’? Has the reader ever seen any living transmutations (cross-overs between major species) still walking around today in malls and in shops and evolving into a different (changed) species as empirical (scientific) proof for ‘Evolution’? (I thought so!).

Most of the conjecturing by atheist-evolutionists today end-up as hearsay (and not necessarily as empirically-proved facts) in peoples’ armchairs. If ‘Evolution’ were really true, and the major species were still evolving, why do the atheist-evolutionists in the science of ‘taxonomy’ then classify the animal kingdom (in zoology) and plants (in botany) as fixed species? (Bear in mind that any speciation or adaptations in Nature probably are due to the wonderful versatility of Nature and DNA in the propagation and diversification of species ... i.e. variations on themes, and not ‘Evolution’ per se).

The rumour (and very convenient save) by some atheist-evolutionists that ‘biological Evolution’ ended a 100 000 years ago when ‘cultural Evolution’ kicked in, is absurd. How did brainless, dumb, accidental, and random ‘Evolutionary forces’ know when to end ‘biological Evolution’ so that ‘cultural Evolution’ could kick in? Furthermore, with this approach the atheist-evolutionists have now practically phased out ‘biological Evolution’ in Nature (since ‘cultural Evolution’ is so in vogue today) and thereby terminating Darwin’s ‘natural selection’ in Nature forever. Some (the hawks?) thus still preach ‘biological Evolution’ while others (the doves?) now insist only on ‘cultural Evolution’. Who is right?

MYTH #39: “We cannot know anything about the Universe ... it is a total mystery to us. Everything in Cosmology today is conjecture.”

REBUTTAL: Scientists have conceded that they only know about 5% of the Universe, and that the rest of the Universe (the 95% of what they call ‘dark energy’ and/or ‘dark matter’) is still a mystery to most cosmologists. In that context the statement that we cannot know much about the Universe (other than what the Bible and familiar astronomy teach us) would probably be true. But, we know at least the following:

- That God created the Universe in the beginning, so the Universe has had a beginning of some sorts (Genesis 1)
- That, if the Universe has had a beginning, it will have an end. As far as the age of the Universe is concerned, it is thus not infinite. This is borne out in various ways, for instance (i) the Bible says that the Universe will implode one day at the end of the age with the advent of the ‘Day of the Lord’; (ii) the Second Law of Thermodynamics states that the Universe is ‘running down’ like a grandfather-clock and that everything in Nature is decaying; and (iii) modern geneticists teach that, due to the accumulation and propagation of mutations in cells, the human race is, genetically-speaking, devolving instead of ‘evolving’ as the atheist-evolutionists teach. I have mentioned that the Universe will still ‘implode’ at the end of the age with the advent of ‘The Day of the Lord’. The Bible says:

[2 Peter KJV 3:5]

“For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:

[2 Peter 3:6]

Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:

[2 Peter 3:7]

But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

[2 Peter 3:8]

But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

[2 Peter 3:9]

The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

[2 Peter 3:10]

But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

[2 Peter 3:11]

Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness,

[2 Peter 3:12]

Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

[2 Peter 3:13]

Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.”

It is thus clear from this portion of Scripture that:

- With the advent of ‘The Day of the Lord’, the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, and the Earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up
- The heavens being on fire shall be dissolved and new heavens and a new Earth will be forthcoming.

MYTH #40: “The atheist-evolutionists will one day prove that there is no God!”

REBUTTAL. False. For any single mortal aspiring to prove the non-existence of God such a mortal, no matter how learned and gifted, will have to be present everywhere in the Universe all at the same time, the prospect of which is clearly impossible and downright ludicrous.

It does not matter where or how far into space such a gifted scientist or sage may propose to journey in his ‘mission impossible’ to prove the non-existence of God, he will return empty-handed, as the infinite God may always be hiding from view somewhere else. Just because you could not find Henry Ford in the engine of a Ford-car does not mean that Henry Ford does not exist; it is highly unlikely that the atheist-evolutionist will ever find God in the machinery of the Universe ... how naïve to even suggest such a possibility! What impertinence for the atheist-evolutionist, an individual probably wearing a burger-smeared white coat, thick glasses and a head beset with dandruff, to assume that he can observe and study God as if He (God) were a common laboratory-rat. God says:

[Psalms 2:4 KJV]

“He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.”

It will take a super-being of infinite proportions and gifts to ever prove the non-existence of God, someone who is omnipresent, omnipotent, omniscient, and infinitely wise, for instance, someone like God Himself. Fact of life: Only God (‘YHWH, the ‘I AM’ of the Judeo-Christian Bible) has the stature, power, influence, authority, intelligence, and scientific gravitas required to ever prove the so-called ‘non-existence’ of God. That He will obviously not do ... an eagle does not jump into a cage of its own accord. Besides, God cannot lie anyway:

[Titus 1:2 KJV]

“In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began.”

[Hebrews 6:18]

“That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us.”

Likewise, just as only a God of the calibre of the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob could ever prove the ‘non-existence’ of God, only a Jesus Christ could have ‘forged’ a Jesus Christ ... that Carpenter from Nazareth simply was too unique to possibly have been anticipated, fabricated, or forged by even the most innovative and imaginative of first-century science-fiction writers.

MYTH #41: “Christians waste their time praying to a non-existent ‘God’, and the exercise and discipline of prayer probably does not have any practical utility value worth mentioning at all, except perhaps for the doubtful benefit of spiritual or psychological therapy for the pray-er or intercessor himself in the form of stress-release and letting-off steam. If there really were a ‘God’, the so-called Providence of such a ‘God’ would have been resourceful and sufficient enough to anyway deal with the pray-er’s (intercessor’s) destiny effectively without the advantage or unnecessary interference of ‘prayer’!”

REBUTTAL. False. The atheist has forgotten the age-old adage of ‘prayer changes things’. The fallacy of the atheist’s view is obvious, for instance, one may just as well have argued that the resourcefulness of the Providence of God were sufficient to effectively guide the pray-er’s (the person praying) destiny without the unnecessary investment of his personal initiative, a formal education, hard work and lifelong workplace-ethics and dedication. The absurdity of this argument is glaringly apparent, for just as the discipline of personal initiative, an acquired education, hard work, self-discipline and the application of workplace ethics and dedication are, among others, critical prerequisites for career- or ministry-success, so would the discipline and exercise of prayer similarly be a critical prerequisite for career- and ministry-success for the simple reason that prayer (or the act of praying) also, just like the other virtues already mentioned, constitutes personal initiative on the part of the pray-er.

That great French scientist and theist, Blaise Pascal, once mused wisely: “God has given us the benefit of prayer to grant us mortals the dignity of causality.” Be that as it may, the Bible nevertheless teaches:

[Lamentations 3:55 KJV]

“I called upon thy name, O LORD, out of the low dungeon.

[Lamentations 3:56]

Thou hast heard my voice: hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.

[Lamentations 3:57]

Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not.

[Lamentations 3:58]

O Lord, thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul; thou hast redeemed my life.

[James 4:7]

Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

[James 4:8]

Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

[James 4:9]

Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

[James 4:10]

Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

[Matthew 6:5]

And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

[Matthew 6:6]

But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

[Matthew 6:7]

But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

[Matthew 6:8] Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

[Hebrews 11:6]

But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he, that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

[1 Corinthians 3:9]

For we are labourers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.”

MYTH #42: “Jesus of Nazareth may have been an important prophet, a remarkable rabbi and genuinely godly man; in fact, he may have been a serious and devoted ascetic sincerely sold out to the faith of his fathers. He certainly was a great teacher; but to say that He was (is) ‘God’, is preposterous!”

REBUTTAL. What a warped view of the life and character of the greatest man that ever walked this Earth ... a man often referred to by Christians as the Pearl of Great Price and the Rock of Ages. So, what is wrong with this view?

- Firstly, what source had this opinion-maker employed to come to the august conclusion that Jesus of Nazareth was, at best, a ‘great teacher’ ... was it the Bible? If the Bible, how could he, after he had first earlier rejected as the bona fide ‘Word of God’ as his authority, now proclaim Jesus as (only) a ‘great teacher’? This is a serious philosophical anomaly, on par with the atheist who tries to use texts from the Bible as his authority ... to prove the errors of the Bible.

- Secondly, the very statement that, ‘Jesus of Nazareth may have been a great teacher, but he certainly was (is) not God’, is an unworkable and embarrassing philosophical paradox as well as a painful theological contradiction in terms. Bear in mind that Jesus’ life and ministry was very controversial (to put it mildly), because of His insistence that He was ‘God in the flesh’, ‘God with us’ (Immanuel), the ‘Son of God’ etc., i.e. God in human form, so much so that He was killed by the Jewish authorities for that ‘blasphemous’ claim. The anomaly lies therein that, had Jesus of Nazareth really been only a ‘great teacher’, He would not have made such outrageous claims about His alleged divine origins and stature. Great teachers do not say silly things like that. Great teachers know how to behave in public; they have tact and good manners; they follow protocol and mind the sensitivities of people. In other words, either He was a mediocre teacher and religious charlatan of the worst kind, or He actually was (IS) God ... period. Jesus was often baffled by the lack of appreciation for His character and testimony:

[John 3:12 KJV]

“If I told you earthly things and ye believe not, how shall ye believe if I tell you heavenly things?”

[John 8:45]

But because I say the truth, ye believe me not.”

I describe this ‘popular’ worldview that Jesus of Nazareth was no more than a ‘great teacher’ (enamoured with His passion for the Scriptures and perhaps also suffering from some delusions of prophetic, messianic grandeur) as 'Urban Pagan Syndrome' (UPS), the sad result of our postmodernist theologians' modern-day 'Theology of Genetically Modified Christianity'. In seminaries where GMC ('Genetically Modified Christianity') is taught, strange things happen. For instance:

- 'Mass murder' becomes kosher, or legal and even morally preferable ('Abortion-On-Demand'/'Pro-choice' etc.)
- Same-sex marriage and homosexuality, and the sanctifying of it as a biologically viable lifestyle, becomes the vogue, not only among secular humanists and atheists, but even among leftist 'Christians' and 'churches'. Imagine a world where Adam and Eve were both gay ... what would have happened to the human race? Scientific Fact: The first human pair was heterosexual, and every person that was ever born on this planet was born from a heterosexual relationship.
- The Bible becomes a mythical but useful 'Book on Ethics' designed for the regimentation of societies, communities, and populations and for keeping criminals and rogues in check, nothing more. Heaven and Hell does not exist; the world was created by the absurd trinity of Father Time, Mother Nature and the unholy driving force of Natural Selection ('Evolution'); the Gospel story and the miracles of the Bible become allegories that must be metaphorically interpreted (i.e. Genesis never actually happened and Revelation is not going to happen, making one wonder: Exactly why would anyone bother with GMC at all ... could it be for the lucrative salary and the job-security?. Imagine the convenience: No moral accountability on this Earth and no divine retribution in the Hereafter by a Holy God, according to the prophets of GMC (Genetically Modified Christianity).

MYTH #44: "The many differences between and the discrepancies found in the four Gospels of the New Testament testify to the inaccuracy and erroneous nature of the Gospels!"

REBUTTAL. False. What purpose would have been served to have four Gospels if all four were identical? Obviously three of them would then have been superfluous. So, why include the Four Gospels in the New Testament? Simply because the very (apparent) discrepancies between them testify to the authenticity of the documents, otherwise the authors of the Gospels might have been charged with collusion in an effort to report the relevant details identically and exactly the same.

There sometimes can be a stark difference between a ‘credible witness’ and an ‘accurate witness’. Witnesses who sometimes report the same event with details exactly similar, may often be rejected by an astute judge or advocate as ‘accurate yet incredible’, for the very reason of ‘collusion’, or a ‘conspiracy to collude’; while witnesses clearly contradicting each other may often be found to be ‘inaccurate and in contradiction, yet credible’. The greatest prize for the defence-attorney is to have a truthful, credible witness, even when the details do not necessarily always add up. Sometimes, truth can really be stranger than fiction.

Be that as it may, the very fact that the sceptics even raise this argument serves as living testimony to their (subconscious?) accepting of the Biblical account and the four Gospels per se as authentic, for again they have been caught (i) employing the Bible as a source in order to (ii) discredit the Bible as a source.

MYTH #44: “The parables of Jesus of Nazareth were not necessarily true life-events. Those were just scenarios he had fabricated in order to illustrate a point or to teach some lesson on ethics. The parables were anecdotal and not actual historical events that probably ought to be interpreted metaphorically in passing!”

REBUTTAL. This well-known (and by now worn-out) view by the atheist-evolutionists and the secular humanists in general (the same old ‘higher criticism’ of yesteryear but just in a different coat) probably would, if juxtaposed against the Biblical text and the preponderance of archaeological evidence in support of the Gospel story, never pass the test of credibility in a court of law. Some notes:

- The whole idea that Jesus of Nazareth never performed any miracles and that the miracles of the New Testament either could be explained away by some natural phenomenon or otherwise by a well-applied metaphor, is not acceptable. Some have actually postulated that Jesus must have balanced himself on a huge block of ice when He walked on the water, or that He, according to the author Frank Yerby in The Thirteenth Disciple, probably had used a surfboard with which to negotiate the rough seas of Galilee in the middle of the night, sounds even more preposterous and incredible than the historically-accepted interpretations of the miracles themselves.
- A Bible and New Testament without miracles would make no sense, for Jesus’ entire claim to fame (or rather, ‘notoriety’) was founded on (i) His many miracles attested by numerous eyewitnesses, and (ii) His claim to be God in human form, which eventually culminated in the blasphemy-charge which happened to seal His eventual fate (humanly speaking). Nobody in his right mind today will be interested in a Bible without miracles or worship a God who is not an almighty, miracle-working Creator. If Jesus could not perform miracles, heal the sick, walk on water and raise a Lazarus from the dead, how is He going to forgive our sin? ‘Gods’ perform miracles; that’s why they are called ‘Gods’ in the first place. Anything less will not do.

- As it has been pointed out before, a ‘Great Teacher’ (as Jesus is sometimes called by the ‘uninitiated’, anti-Christian bloc) but mere mortal nevertheless would not have claimed to be God, so the fact that He did claim to be God leaves us with only two possibilities: Either Jesus of Nazareth was insane, or He was God in human form. Insane people do not make great moral leaders, and do not leave the kind of legacy that Jesus Christ had left us. So the whole idea of Jesus as just a ‘great teacher’ but nothing more is nullified by the pure psychology of His character, and His claim as God in the flesh is borne out by His remarkable life, ministry, teachings, and resurrection from the dead.

- To suggest that the Bible was just a grand ‘Book of Ethics’ fabricated over the centuries by unscrupulous ‘businessmen’ in connivance with corrupt ‘priests’ to keep the poor and the ignorant in check and to educate and programme them not to steal from the rich or work backbreaking hours for a slave-wage, is absurd. If that were all the Bible offered I would probably have zapped it into the zibi (dumped it into the waste-bin) today ... why would I need a ‘Book of Ethics’ if no holy God were going to demand moral accountability (in this life) and retribution (in the Hereafter) from me?

Life is about choices, and it all boils down to basically two choices: Either we reject the Bible as incorrect until someone comes along with enough credible evidence to prove the Bible correct, or we accept the Bible as correct until someone comes along with enough credible evidence to prove the Bible as incorrect. Let God be the judge of the merit of our choices in Eternity one day. As far as I am concerned, I believe as follows:

[1 Timothy 1:15a KJV]

“Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.”

MYTH #45: “Who needs ‘God’? The atheist-evolutionists and science will still one day create LIFE in a test-tube in a laboratory, and then the fallacy of the teachings of the Christian Church (i.e. the universal ‘Ecclesia’) will at last be exposed as an elaborate hoax to dupe the gullible and ignorant masses into subservience to an imaginary deity!”

REBUTTAL. False.

- Firstly, if I were an atheist-evolutionist, I would shoot the very first person who would as much as try and create ‘life’ in a test-tube in the laboratory, for such an epic event and achievement, if successful, would constitute the results of intelligent design, and not the result of dumb, random, and accidental ‘Evolutionary’ processes. In other words, without the intelligence, education, scientific prowess, and interference of the brilliant scientist applying strict scientific protocols or the benefits of million-dollar laboratory-facilities and research-grants, nothing would have happened.
- Secondly, the question one may ask the atheist-evolutionist in turn is, what if the ‘Evolutionary Theory’ were a conspiracy to dupe gullible and ignorant members of the public into believing the elaborate hoax of the imaginary deity of ‘Scientism’ (the blind worship of science) and ‘Atheism-Evolutionism’? If we really are ‘fools for Jesus’, then whose fools are they?
- Thirdly, LIFE is more than just a motley collection of biological ingredients, e.g. DNA, RNA, cells, hair, blood, skin, vital organs, oxygen, nitrogen, proteins, enzymes, fats, carbohydrates, brain-cells, nerves, etc. For instance, if one were to catch a live frog and feed it through a food-processor, it would present to the scientist engaged in research the ideal ingredients for re-creating LIFE experimentally in a laboratory. The only reason it has never been done before is because the scientists simply cannot do it, because LIFE is more than the physiology of our (or animals’) bodies. The Bible teaches about the reality of the difference between ordinary, ‘Earthly’ bodies and the wonder of transfinite, ‘Heavenly’ bodies:

[1 Corinthians 15:39 KJV]

“All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

[1 Corinthians 15:40]

“There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.”

What is this mysterious ingredient that constitutes LIFE and the difference between terrestrial (earthly) and celestial (heavenly) bodies? The easiest way to explain it is as follows: One hour after my son was born in 1979, I would have died, i.e. given my life, for a little person I had, an hour before, not known from Adam; the same with the birth of my daughter in 1981. This unknown quantity called 'LOVE' cannot be explained by all the atheism-evolutionism, clinical psychology, communism or secular humanism in the world, no matter how many experts or what preponderance of knowledge and information you have gathered in your Bibliography column.

Scientists can kill hundreds of thousands of people with the press of a button (Hiroshima, Nagasaki, Dresden, Hamburg, Cologne) but cannot even put LIFE into so much as a single pumpkin seed ... how pathetic; then they still have the audacity to challenge to a dual the God of the Universe with His assumed 'intelligence quotient' of Infinity to the power of Infinity ($i\infty$).

Here is the answer to the mystery of LIFE, the thing the reader probably has been searching for all of his or her life:

[Romans 5:8 KJV]

"But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

4. CONCLUSION

Mankind's greatest sin is the sin of unbelief. The Bible says that without faith it is impossible to please God and that those who do not believe that Jesus Christ is Lord and Saviour of the world are condemned already.

[Hebrews 11:6 KJV]

“But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he, that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

[John 3:17]

For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

[John 3:18]

He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.”

Many years ago a man called William Cowper penned these immortal words with reference to Jesus of Nazareth, the Pearl of Great Price, and Rock of Ages:

*“There is a fountain filled with blood,
Drawn from Immanuel’s veins;
And sinners plunged beneath that flood –
Lose all their guilty stains!”*

Atheism probably is a worldview with all the ecclesiastical trappings of a religion:

- BIBLE: ‘The Origin of the Species by means of Natural Selection, or the Preservation of Favoured Races in the Struggle for Life’ (Charles Darwin).
- CATECHISM: ‘The Descent of Man’ (Charles Darwin).
- POPE: Charles Darwin.
- ARCHBISHOPS: Atheists, atheist-evolutionists (scientific pantheists), secular humanists, postmodernists etc.
- BISHOPS/APOSTLES/EVANGELISTS/MISSIONARIES: Evolution-driven apologists, academics & scientists.
- PRIESTS: Palaeontologists.

- DEACONS: Apologists for atheists/agnostics/secular humanists.
- SEMINARIES: Atheist Associations/Secular Humanist Societies.
- CHURCHES: Natural History Museums.
- CREDO: “We believe in Evolution, i.e., humans have evolved by accident from a pool of primordial slime millions of years ago/There is no God & no life-after-death/Life on earth has no reason, no purpose and no meaning/There is no such thing as Absolute Truth except for the absolute truth of Atheism.”

5. EPILOGUE

5.1 ATHEISM OR DEPRESSION? Atheists do not suffer from 'Atheism'; they probably suffer from a particularly toxic brand of mental depression, i.e., 'Urban Pagan Syndrome' (UPS) hence the 'Atheist's ABC': Always Angry, Bitter & Cynical (check the often foul language and the joyless, irate, and aggrieved demeanour).

Without Jesus Christ, the Author of Life, lasting joy is impossible. Without obedience to the still small voice of the Holy Spirit, true 'joie de vivre' forever unlikely. Without a sound knowledge of the Holy Scriptures, faith rarely forthcoming. Without humility, repentance, and spiritual regeneration forever elusive.

5.2 'SEEING' GOD. Atheists want to 'see' God. The Bible is clear: "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." (Matthew Chptr5). Atheists are looking in all the wrong places, i.e., searching for God with calculus, slide rules, computers, calculators, telescopes, microscopes, stethoscopes, and spectrosopes would be akin to the chairman of MENSA* trying to find Henry Ford in the engine compartment of a Ford automobile. All he will ever see are the telltale signs of Henry Ford's engineering and engineering legacy. Likewise, all the atheist will ever see are the telltale signs of Jesus Christ's Cosmic Engineering and the legacy of His Creative Engineering (the creation of the Cosmos (Hebrews1:1-4).

*IQ Test Academy.

5.3 ABSOLUTE TRUTH. Contradictions among atheists abound:

- Atheists/secular humanists do not believe in Absolute Truth ... except for the absolute truth of atheism.
- They do not believe in Intelligent Design ... except for intelligently designed books, textbooks, theses, dissertations, articles in science journals, debates, lectures, speeches, and comments on social media etc. on the so-called "virtues of Atheism".
- They do not believe in an Intelligent Designer, yet, as a lobby group, have themselves become consummate artists in the practical application of the intelligently designed tools of intelligent design; e.g.: - Spectrosopes, computers, calculus, calculators, telescopes, microscopes, satellite technology, GPS, television, telephone, cellphone, the Internet, websites, blogs, vlogs, e-mail, podcasts, social media, mainstream (legacy) media; chemistry, biochemistry, genetics, anthropology, biology, rock mechanics, mathematics, statistics, forensics, universities, state-of-the-art laboratories & research facilities, palaeontological excavations, museum exhibits, the categorisation of fossils, the classification of the animal and plant kingdoms, academia, advanced degrees and post-doctoral qualifications; Nobel Prizes for excellence in science etc.

5.4 EVIDENCE FOR EVOLUTION. What the atheist is submitting as "evidence for Evolution" is embarrassingly skimpy:

a. Cosmic Evolution. Unfalsifiable statements like, "The Universe is 13.8 billion years old" are not acceptable ... how on earth can anyone go back billions of years to empirically test for the validity of that statement? Any eyewitness testimony? Unfalsifiable data on the age of the Universe is not evidence, but conjecture. Real science demands falsifiable evidence. Guessing about the nature and age of the Universe (and hoping you're right) is not 'science'.

b. Geological Evolution. Unfalsifiable statements like, "The earth is 4.54 billion years old" are not acceptable ... how on earth (pardon the pun) can anyone go back billions of years to empirically test for the validity of that statement? Any eyewitness testimony? Unfalsifiable data on the age of the earth (geological strata) is not evidence, but conjecture. Real science demands falsifiable evidence. Guessing about the nature and age of geological strata (and hoping you're right) is not 'science'.

c. Biological Evolution. Unfalsifiable statements like, "Fossils are millions of years old" are not acceptable ... how on earth can anyone go back millions of years to test for the validity of that statement? Unfalsifiable data on the age of fossils is not evidence, but conjecture. Real science demands falsifiable evidence. Guessing about the nature and age of fossils (and hoping you're right) is not 'science'.

5.5 THE ULTIMATE INSULT. As you can see, atheists insult our intelligence by submitting unfalsifiable data as evidence for Evolution and hence for Atheism. The ultimate insult? Well, once, when I asked an atheist why they were submitting unfalsifiable data as evidence for Evolution, he (probably not speaking for the entire scientific community) spritely replied: "We falsify our data as evidence for Evolution theoretically!" I rest my case.

5.6 COMPREHENDING GOD. Amazing. The atheists on this page want to understand and see a God, the Creator with the assumed I.Q. of INFINITY to the power of infinity, with their ordinary human brain, average I.Q. about 120-140+ (?). Were that possible, then God would not be God, would He? "A comprehended God is no god." (St. Augustine).

5.7 FINITY CANNOT GRASP INFINITY. Guys, you are not supposed to understand Him. 'Finity' cannot grasp INFINITY. How do you purport to wrap a brain of only about 1300 to 1400 grams around the brain of the Architect of the Universe? The best we can do is to deduce that God must have created this Cosmos as it can be clearly seen in the mathematical order, beauty, and majesty of the Cosmos.

5.8 THE LAW OF CREATORSHIP. The 'Law of Creatorship' teaches that any object or product produced by an inventive mind (inventor, scientist, chef, manufacturer etc.) will always be inferior (less complex, less intelligent) to its inventor. The woman baking a cake surely herself is superior to the cake, and the scientist inventing the telephone surely superior to the telephone. It thus stands to reason that, no matter how complex and majestic the Cosmos, its inventor must have been a Mind that is far more superior (far more complex, more majestic, more intelligent) to its invention or product, i.e., the Cosmos. A Grade 7 could probably figure that out, why can't the atheists? Why can't a "PhD" professor?

5.9. OBSERVATIONAL SCIENCE. We learn the rudiments of Creation from observational science (telescopes, microscopes etc.) and to date scientists have conceded that they know only about 5% of what is going on in the Cosmos (check your science websites); the rest (95%) is described as "undetectable by scientific instruments dark matter + dark energy". Has it never dawned on atheists that God may be obscured from their observations and view in the 95% of the Cosmos they still know zero about? Wouldn't it then be the mother of all stupidity to build one's life philosophy and dreams on knowledge limited to only that 5% we know? In a palace with 100 rooms, will the police only search after a murderer in five of the rooms and then go home telling everybody that the criminal was not hiding inside that house? People who love science are supposed to be the brightest bulbs in the home or school, not the dullest.

5.10 LEARNING FROM GOD. The Bible teaches that wisdom comes from the fear of God (Job28:28; Proverbs1:7). We also learn about the Cosmos from the Bible, God's letter to mankind. If God created the Universe, then it stands to reason that He is quite capable of teaching us about His own Creation, not true? As mentioned before, God spoke the Cosmos into existence with the words of His mouth in a single sentence (See Genesis Chapter 1), hence the word: "UNIVERSE". (UNI + VERSE = A single sentence).

5.11. LIFE IS ABOUT CHOICES. Life is about choosing the RIGHT side of history, not the WRONG side. Why do atheists insist on choosing the WRONG side ... are they nursing some kind of death wish? Life is always about choices. No judge has ever sent a criminal to prison. The criminal goes there of his own volition; he has chosen to go there by virtue of his actions, criminal intent, and anti-social behaviour; all the Judge did was to help him with the paperwork; no use arguing with the fellow.

Likewise, no atheist will ever inherit damnation because the Supreme Judge has sent him there. He will go there by virtue of his life choices. As free moral agents we have a moral responsibility to choose between light and darkness, good and evil, life and death. Thus far, atheists have, by their own confession, chosen death, because they follow the faith that teaches that there is no life after death (Atheism). Why are atheists choosing death ... surely they are more intelligent than that? So, the warning comes loud and clear when God, as the Inventor and Owner of the Cosmos and the Creator of mankind, puts before us all this ultimatum:

“I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live.”

[Deuteronomy 30:19MKJV].

5.12. MARK THIS DAY. From today, this day has been recorded against us all ... no one who had ever read this piece, irrespective of the date, will ever in all Eternity be able to say he has not heard or did not know. Remember that. Your future depends on that. Those who have chosen wisely will respond with words that edify and are noble; words that speak life, truth, love and beauty. Those that have chosen imprudently will speak words of hate, derision, vulgarity, profanity, blasphemy, and gross insult (mark my words!). By their fruits we shall know them.

5.13 ATHEISM’S ABSURDITIES. Just because one cannot find Henry Ford in the engine compartment of a Ford automobile does not mean Henry Ford does not or did not exist. Observational science with slide rules, calculators, computers, telescopes, microscopes, spectroscopes, and stethoscopes will never find God ... God is SPIRIT and invisible to the naked eye.

Ordinary mortals cannot see electricity, radio waves, microwaves, wi-fi etc., yet the manifestations of these invisible phenomena are pretty obvious in our daily lives. Likewise we see God manifested in the majesty and beauty of the Cosmos, Nature, Physics, and the birth of a baby. When my son was born in 1979, I would, five minutes afterwards, have given my life for a little person that I five minutes before did not know from Adam. That is the wonder of Creation and God's love. ‘Evolution’ (and not even the smartest atheist) can never explain that, and should not even try ... one will only make one heck of a fool of oneself.

Do the math: Scientists concede that they only know about 5% of what is going on in the Universe. It thus stands to reason that God may be obscured from the scientists' view and observations in the 95% of the Cosmos they still know nothing about. That is just about all of the Cosmos (minus 5%). The multimillion-rupee question: Would you trust a surgeon to operate on your heart or brain if that surgeon (at varsity) only covered 5% of his course curriculum for doctors, but missed the rest? Yet, atheists have the gall to want to make pronouncements on the Nature and Character of God on only about 5% (collective) information about the Universe? Shall we laugh or cry? Furthermore, even the 5% that the scientists say they know is anyway highly suspect ... how can anyone say he knows 5% of something when he does not even know what the 100% of that something entails? Scientists have no clue what the Sum Total (100%) of all Cosmic knowledge entails ... how can they?

So, we have no evidence that scientists know even the so-called 5% of the Cosmos as they are claiming to know; we have to take them on their word by faith.

5.14 WHAT THE BIBLE TEACHES ABOUT ATHEISTS. The Bible says:

“The fool has said in his heart, There is no God. They acted corruptly, and have worked out abominable wickedness; there is not one doing good.”

[Psalm53:1bMKJV].

“He who sits in the heavens shall laugh; Jehovah shall mock at them. Then He shall speak to them in His anger, and trouble them in His wrath.”

[Psalm2:4-5MKJV].

“The wise in heart will receive commandments; but a babbling fool shall fall.”

[Proverbs10:8MKJV].

5.15 THE ATHEIST PSYCHE. Readers of books like this must note the general demeanour of atheists: The further the debate is stretched, ‘demeanour’ they become. It is all because they suffer from UPS (‘Urban Pagan Syndrome’), a malady more or less on par with a particular kind of mental depression that, since 1859, has now apparently fully transmogrified into the atheist's classical ABC: Always ANGRY, BITTER & CYNICAL.

Check the language and bitter invective, replete with banalities, vulgarities, profanities and even, from time to time, blasphemies, of the average atheist. How can anyone be joyful, at peace with God and happy in his own skin with such a morbid, depressing, ‘Dead Poets Society’ take on life? That is why atheists have absolutely zero to live for, other to argue with Christians over the existence of God ... their equivalent of the average 16-year old’s fanatical computer gaming.

Socio-culturally we thus cannot blame them, really. Anyone who wilfully, maliciously, rejects the Good News (‘Gospel’) of Jesus Christ to replace it with the bad news ('anti-gospel') of atheism-evolutionism, obviously will be prone to become morbidly depressed. Atheism is a death-cult ("There is no life after death!" they say) so, one will be dominated and ruled by what one believes in, because one's human behaviour is determined (among others) by one's belief system. By the way, a belief-system is also known as 'religion', thus making Atheism a bona fide religion ("We believe in Atheism!" or "We believe in Evolution!" etc. ad nauseam).

Sadly, the atheist-evolutionists are driven by the death-cult of 'Death-after-death'. Now, scientists refer to life that arises from life as 'biogenesis', since life cannot arise from inanimate, dead things. It thus stands to reason that, when one's entire belief system (i.e., religion) and mental potential are founded on a death-cult, i.e., that life has arisen from dead, inanimate things (like some mysterious, gooey pothole of 'primordial soup' millions of year ago), one will, by default, obviously be mentally depressed, and hence angry, bitter and cynical, even livid to the point of going ballistic, or, in extreme cases, having a mental breakdown.

5.16 RICHARD DAWKINS EXPOSED AS A FRAUD WITH HIS RIDICULOUS "HALLUCINATING" PEOPLE STATEMENT. Dawkins gives himself out as a serious scientist. As regards the science of "hallucinations", however, ask any behavioural scientist and he will affirm that, although delusions en masse are possible; hallucinations en masse are impossible. Individuals may personally hallucinate, but groups of people cannot hallucinate the same hallucination "en masse". Do the math: If Dawkins could get this science so wrong, what else is he getting wrong?

5.17 ON DAWKINS' ASSERTION THAT PEOPLE FOLLOW THE RELIGION THEY ARE BORN IN. Again, another serious delusion from Dawkins, the "man of science". If people followed the religion they are born into and grow up in:

- a. What about the people who are born into atheist households but become Christians later in life?
- b. What about people who are born into Christian households and become atheists later in life?
- c. What about people who are born into Islamic, Hindu & Buddhist households but are no longer Muslims, Hindus, and Buddhists later in life?
- d. What about people who are born into Christian households but who become either Muslims, Hindus, or Buddhists later in life?

e. What about people who are born into and grow up in Darwinian households but grow up to become either Christians, Buddhists, Hindus, Muslims, or Christian & Jewish Creationists later in life?

f. What about people who are born into and grow up in Catholic or Mormon households but are no longer Catholics and Mormons later in life?

5.18. IS DAWKINS' "EVOLUTIONISM" STUPID? So, where is "Evolution" going wrong? If people are inevitably destined to and inexorably led their fate by Dawkins' non-negotiable (cast-in-concrete) "accident of birth" ideology, why is Dawkins then so disingenuously and unscientifically trying to win creationists, Bible-believing Christians, orthodox Jews, devout Catholics, faithful Muslims, sworn Buddhists, and institutional non-atheists over to Atheism-Evolutionism (Scientific Pantheism)? Is Dawkins, ironically, trying his level best to prove his own ideology as the false religious cult it really is? Where Dawkins certainly is going wrong however, is the fact that he, with a PhD in his portfolio and years of science training and experience, simply cannot (or will not) accept the hard, non-negotiable scientific fact that parking a fiery, robust, virile, handsome 16-year-old rebel teenager in a garage every night won't make him a Ferrari automobile.

People are not born carbon-copied replicas of their parents, but serious individuals where the fingerprints and DNA of each one ever born will be unique. As a biologist, Dawkins clearly still knows precious little about biogenesis, life in the Universe and the marvellous dynamics of God's Creation.

5.19 BEGGING THE QUESTION. How could it be said of Jesus Christ that He never claimed to be the Son of God, when He claimed:

- the power and authority to FORGIVE SINS?
- the power and authority to dispense ETERNAL LIFE to repentant sinners?
- the power and authority to preside as CHIEF JUSTICE at the Great White Throne Judgment on Judgment Day?

God the Father has, on several occasions, affirmed Jesus as His "beloved Son in whom He was well pleased". On the Mount of Transfiguration it was even witnessed by two of the most credible witnesses of history, i.e., Moses and Elijah, plus the witnesses of John, James and Peter. It thus stands to reason that, if the Father was deity, then the Son must be deity too. The son of a horse is a horse; the son of a lion is a lion; the son of a man is man, the son of a God is a God.

And, Jesus, as Son of God, was no ordinary son of man, e.g., like Adam, the prophets and the rest of 'male-dom' in the world. He was 'The Son of Man', i.e., the unique Son of Man from the Daniel prophecy.

The atheists are going to feel real silly when they, on Judgment Day, will stand before the same Jesus Christ (that they so egregiously had denigrated back here on earth) to be judged, i.e., when Jesus will preside over Judgment Day at the Great White Throne Judgment because He is "the Son of Man". On that day all the smart-Alec excuses for atheism by Dawkins, Ehrman, Harris, Kraus, Nye and Russell will fall flat on the floor like a revolting piece of mouldy jelly.

Furthermore, will there, on that Day, be no more time or opportunity for them to scurry back to try and retrieve every single irresponsible word of profanity and blasphemy they had uttered to Jesus and God the Father over a lifetime and decades of toxic atheism. A famous Persian philosopher has once written:

"The moving finger writes; and, having writ, moves on: nor all thy piety nor wit shall lure it back to cancel half a line, nor all thy tears wash out a word of it."

- Omar Khayyam, 1048-1131 AD.

By sheer coincidence, Omar Khayyam has echoed the words of Jesus of Nazareth spoken a millennium earlier:

"Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or else make the tree corrupt and its fruit corrupt; for the tree is known by its fruit. Offspring of vipers! How can you, being evil, speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. A good man out of the good treasure of the heart brings out good things; and an evil man out of the evil treasure brings out evil things. But I say to you that every idle word, whatever men may speak, they shall give account of it in the day of judgment. For by your words you shall be justified, and by your words you shall be condemned."

[Matthew 12:33-37MKJV].

5.20 DEATH IS NOT THE END OF LIVING. To those who support the death-cult of Atheism-Evolutionism (Scientific Pantheism): Death is not the end of living; death is the end of dying, so get over it. Never follow anyone preaching the religion of "Death-after-Death". That preacher is going nowhere ... fast. God's warning, however, is clear:

"I call Heaven and earth to record today against you. I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing. Therefore, choose life, so that both you and your seed may live."

[Deuteronomy 30:19MKJV].

5.21RUMOUR MONGERING ON STEROIDS. One reader once has written, “Some say that Jesus never existed.” “Some say ...”. How can anyone purport to lay his head, future and life on the block on something so frivolous and flimsy as, “Some say ...” (?). Scientists agree that they know only about 5% of what is going on in the Cosmos, with the rest (95%) described as, “Undetectable by scientific instruments dark matter and dark energy”, yet atheists want to bet their life's work and entire future on only 5% knowledge of the Cosmos?

The next time anyone doubts the life and times of Jesus Christ, so denigrated and mocked by so-called “brilliant atheists”, they should just do the following reality check: Compare the CV (Curriculum vitae or Resumé) of your favourite atheist apologist with that of Jesus Christ. What has he accomplished in comparison to Jesus Christ? Do the math:

- a. Jesus Christ never erected a single building, but more churches, seminaries, clinics, hospitals, schools, charity institutions and orphanages have been built founded on His ministry than any other figure of history ever ... how many churches, seminaries, clinics, hospitals, schools, charity institutions and orphanages have been erected in honour of your favourite atheist and his legacy?
- b. Jesus Christ never wrote a single book in His lifetime on earth (33 years), yet more books have been written about Him (with Moses a close second) than any other person that ever lived ... how many books have been written lauding the accomplishments of your favourite atheist?
- c. The Bible (i.e., comprising the Hebrew Bible & New Testament) has been the alltime bestseller for centuries, still is and probably will be for time and eternity ... how many books have your favourite atheist sold over the centuries?
- d. Jesus Christ never studied at Cambridge, Oxford, Harvard or Princeton, yet has healed more people and saved more souls from the consequences of debauchery, sin, crime, despair, mental depression and the general trials of life than any person alive ... how many people has your favourite atheist really meaningfully helped?
- e. Jesus Christ offers all, irrespective of race, skin-tone, culture, language, nationality, age, gender, political affiliation, current religious persuasion and socio-economic status Eternal Life (provided they accept Him as Saviour) ... what else can your favourite atheist offer but the wonderful, inglorious prospect of ... death after death? Who in his right mind anyway builds a career, a life, a ministry, a future and a following on the preaching of the bad news of “death-after-death”? One would imagine that sane, rational and decent people would know better than that.

5.22 WHY CHRISTIANS REJECT ATHEISM. Apart from the fact that Christians reject the religious cult of Atheism for the obvious reason that it is a false cult, the main reason that Christians reject Atheism as a field of interest and study simply is because it is “bad news”.

The word Gospel means “Good News”. Atheists are anti-Gospel and “anti-Gospel” means “bad news” (i.e., not good news). Obviously the preaching and teaching of a “bad news” system of beliefs (“religion”) will offend and repulse rational people; how extraordinary then that atheists, instead of repulsed, are rather drawn, like a moth to a flame, to the bad news of Atheism (“Death-after-death”). I have, in my short lifetime, learned to (i) never speak to strangers accosting me or soliciting my attention in the street (unless it obviously is a person in great distress), (ii) to never listen to what a man wearing a dress has to say, and (iii) to never follow a philosopher who believes in death-after-death.

Furthermore, since people are so fond of museums, I surmise that, in Eternity, there probably will be one heck of a museum (including a wax museum in the tradition of Madame Tussauds of the great atheists of the past) to this once popular, but eventuality, defunct, movement.

BON VOYAGE!

AUTHOR PROFILE

P. J. Stassen, born in 1947 in Randgate, South Africa, holds a B.A. degree in Industrial Psychology & Sociology (Industrial) from the University of South Africa. A former businessman who, after mandatory military conscription, spent the first 12 years of his life in 1966 in the field of retail (Textiles & General Dealer) in a family business begun by his father in 1964, thereafter worked at various other jobs eventually arriving in the fulfilling position of a corporate trainer with Kumba Resources (formerly Iscor Iron Ore Mine) in the Bushveldt region of South Africa during the years 1986 and 1997. At the time of his retirement in 2013 he was engaged in Occupational Health & Safety Training in the corporate environment on a contract basis for a Johannesburg company.

P.J. Stassen and his wife are both retired and live in Centurion, South Africa after having also served in their capacities as gospel musicians (pianist & organist respectively) in churches in two of South Africa's nine provinces, e.g., in places like Vanderbijlpark, Bloemfontein, Thabazimbi, Sinoville and Centurion.

Debunking the Myth of
ATHEISM-EVOLUTIONISM

P.J. Stassen

For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse:

Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools.

[Romans 1:20-22 KJV].
